WHY ENDURE SUMMER COLDS?

It isn't necessary to have a stuffed head, running nose. To cough your head off as it were. All you need do is to use Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. The soothing and healing balsam open the clogged air passages and in a short time you get relief and start on the road to recovery. Your nose stops running, you cough less and you know you are getting better. Get a bottle, use as directed. Keep what is left as a cough and cold insurance.

A Circle That Never Stops Growing

It is astonishing how quickly people get to know about a car, and especially about the men who build it.

People are not buying Dodge Brothers Motor Car simply because they want a car of some sort, or any sort.

They are buying it because they want the precise and particular kind of a car which Dodge Brothers build.

All over the country they seem to have a shrewd and accurate idea of exactly the kind of manufacturers Dodge Brothers are.

They seem to know that Dodge Brothers idea, from the very first, was that if they built the car right—nothing else mattered much.

People generally know all about the car—or nearly all—before they call on a Dodge Brothers dealer.

They know it either from their own experience, or from what they have seen or been told of other people's experience.

They pick out the very points for which it is noted everywhere—points which have not been emphasized especially in advertising.

They know why they want the car—and they are more eager for it today all over the country than they have been at any other period in its history.

The production has always been too small to come anywhere near satisfying the demand.

It is at this moment, and it probably will be for years to come, no matter how much it may be increased.

The explanation is ridiculously simple.

The gasoline consumption is unusually low.

The tire mileage is unusually high.

The car has never bred anything but good will.

Every time one of these cars goes into a home it becomes an intimate part of the family life of that home.

It gets nothing but good words and good will. The result is that that particular home becomes a little circle of good will revolving around Dodge Brothers Motor Car. The circle spreads out finally, and takes in a near-by neighbor.

That neighbor's home, in turn, begins to radiate good will toward Dodge Brothers and their car, and the circle keeps on growing.

In that way it has grown wider and wider, till it takes in the entire country.

There is always a desire for the car waiting to be satisfied, as fast as the dealer gets in a supply.

That's why sales of more than sixty-three million dollars in a year and a half have fallen far short of satisfying the demand.

The car has qualities peculiar to itself.

People have found this out in their own way.

It has made good with them, and they have given it their good will.

That is why the good will circle goes on growing greater and greater.

Dodge Brothers know this.

They know it is the biggest and best asset in their business.

And, knowing it, they will of course keep on making the car better and better.

The price of the Touring Car or Roadster, complete, is $785 (f. o. b. Detroit)

Fannie Ward In "The Gutter Magdalene"

At Lyric Tomorrow

How a man of wealth may be robbed and lose his identity in the heart of a great city, is graphically shown in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "A Gutter Magdalene" which will be seen at the Lyric tomorrow, with the distinguished actress, Fannie Ward, in the title role. In this photodrama, a man comes from the West, falls into the clutches of crooks, is smuggled, robbed, and left unconscious in the gutter, is hustled into jail and all opportunity of identifying himself lost.

Miss Ward is surrounded by a cast of unusual excellence, including such prominent artists as Jack Dean, Billy Elmer, James Nell, Gertrude Kellar and Robert Brudbury. It is a Paramount program release.

"The Beggar of Cawnpore," Seven Part "Triangle" Masterpiece, Columbia Tonight

"The Beggar of Cawnpore," a magnificent seven part Triangle production at the Columbia tonight, is one of the first films to hit upon the famous Sepoy Rebellion of 1857 for its general theme.

During the year 1856, British India was held by some 233,000 natives and some 45,000 British troops. Much discontent arose in the ranks of the native troops and at Meerut, a military station about twenty-five miles from Delhi, one of the worst of the early outbreaks occurred.

Successful beyond their wildest dreams there, the mutineers marched on Delhi, where most of the British garrison was massacred, and immediately all the north-west provinces of Indian were in intense mutiny and revolt. Cawnpore, one of the most important military stations in all

Billie Burke Tonight At The Lyric

With Added Feature

Billie Burke in the sixth story of Gloria's Romance "Hidden Fires" will be shown at the Lyric along with the Essanay feature, "The Promise Land," a romantic social drama featuring Bryant Washburn and beautiful Marjorie Clayton, a picture story that is admirably suited to these two clever film stars.

At The Exhibit Tonight and Tomorrow

"The Inside of the White Slave Traffic," in five reels, is scheduled for two days at the Exhibit theatre, tonight and tomorrow. There is not an immodest picture in the whole five acts. There is not the remotest suggestion of indecency. There are pictures which show the brutality of a young man who lives by procuring girls for the traffic. The play offers a tremendous warning to young girls. One cannot put this too strongly. It offers a warning of overwhelming force and power. It is with this idea in view that the Medical Review of Reviews made arrangements with Samuel H. London to give to the world at large the benefit of his investigations. Every man, woman and child should witness a performance of this wonderful picture when presented at the Exhibit theatre, where it is shown for the first time in this city.

At The Arcana

"As in a Dream" is a three part soul stirring drama, featuring Sydney Ayres, Doris Fawn, Olive Fuller Golden, Richard Sterling and others. The hero is a preacher in a slum mission house. He saves the daughter of a factory owner, who is suffering from loss of memory and is about to become the victim of a wealthy young despoiler. The contrasts of wealth and poverty are well shown; the story itself is familiar in theme but greatly entertaining. This is one of the best dramas of its kind ever released by the Rex producers. "As in a Dream" is a picture that will grip your interest from the start. "The Wire Pullers" is a side-splitting Laemmle comedy.

At The Strand

"Lords of High Decision" is a Red Feather feature drama. A five reel adaptation of a novel by Meredith Nicholson, featuring Cyril Scott, Joseph Gerard, Mildred Gregory, Margaret Shirlin and others. The hero's father is a mining magnate, who preaches good conditions for the laboring man and practices something else. The hero loves a girl, whose father was crushed in business by his own. This develops some big situations in the way of strike. The night photography makes a good feature.

At The Temple

Tonight is a big feature night at the Temple theatre. Manager Smith has succeeded in booking a big five part Gold Rooster production, the leading parts being taken care of by Pathe stars of the screen, well known to Temple patrons. This is one of Pathe's latest and best productions and it is a drama you will enjoy. Be sure and see this new Gold Rooster five reeler.

She-Oh, I have no doubt you love me, but your love lacks the supreme touch—unselfishness.

"What makes you say that?"

Waighing Instead of Counting.

No longer is it regarded as good management to count uniform pieces one by one in manufacturing plants. Scales especially constructed for the purpose are employed for counting material of the units. Not only is the weighing machine more accurate because it substitutes simple manual operation and the highest degree of mechanical precision for the complicated mental figuring and inaccuracies of other systems, but it counts from 100 to 1,000 per cent faster than the time worn methods.

Nervous, Tired Out, Liver Clogged and Poisoning Nervous System?

A Wineglassful of Tollo Water Will Start Your Liver and Quiet Your Nerves In Half an Hour.

Physicians from all over the United States send nervous, run-down patients to Dawson Springs, Kentucky—the home of Tollo Water. They have learned from experience that this water cleans out the liver and aids the whole system to regain normal health and energy.

Nervous, irritable people—those who wake up in the morning with "headaches" and "all tired out"—will find a Tollo Water liver bath a great help. It will make you feel fine in less than half an hour.

Too much rich, starchy food clogs the minute bile ducts of the liver and the bile cannot flow freely into the bowels to clean out the waste matter as nature requires. This bile, seeking an outlet, backs up into the system, irritates the nerves, causes headaches, constipation, dizziness, indigestion and a general tired-out feeling. Try a Tollo Water liver bath occasionally. Get a 15-cent bottle from your druggist and take about a third of a tumblerful in a glass of plain water before breakfast. In thirty minutes it will dissolve the bile that is clogged in the liver, flush the waste out of the bowels and make you feel fine.

Running From a Fortune

By EDWARD T. STEWART

"John," said the chief of the detective bureau to which I was attached, "there is a very singular case. I have a letter from a party in London asking me to discover a man who is hiding not because he is a criminal, but because he is wanted to enter upon the possession of a fine estate."

It was indeed a singular case. Ralph Thornton, a son of John Thornton, a wealthy manufacturer of Birmingham, England, had come to America in flight from justice, or, rather, injustice. A crime had been committed which had been fixed on him. The circumstantial evidence against him was so strong that his attorney advised him to vanish. He accepted the advice and, though absolutely innocent, sailed in disguise for New York and never made known to any one in England into what part of the country he had drifted. The real criminal had been tried and convicted for another offense and had confessed that he was the guilty one in the crime of which Ralph Thornton had been accused. Ralph's father had been killed and left him all his property.

The trouble in finding Thornton was that he would naturally suppose that any one looking for him would arrest him. Therefore it was necessary to approach him not by ordinary detective methods. I was furnished with a description of his person and informed that he was a university graduate and a scholarly man. I was also given the letter from London stating that he had been exonerated.

I spent a long while in finding out that he had gone to Colorado and engaged in mining there. On leaving England his father had given him $2,000, so I judged he was in fairly easy circumstances and expected to find him, if indeed I did find him, operating a mine.

Proceeding to Denver, I went from there up into the gold mining country on Clear creek, stopping at Empire, where there was a number of stamp mills. There I procured a list of all the men who had invested capital in mining interests and made inquiries concerning every one of them, satisfying myself that my man was not among them. However, I secured information of an Englishman who had been at Georgetown, farther up in the mountains, about the time Thornton came to America and who had sunk all his money in mines. He called himself Thomas Gregory.

Proceeding to Georgetown, I made inquiry for Gregory and learned that the last known of him he had turned wandering prospector. There seemed nothing to do but hunt him up, but it would be like looking for a needle in a haystack, and even if I found him I had no assurance that he was my quarry.

While considering what to do I was sitting one morning on the porch of the hotel reading a local paper. At that time the Venezuela matter with England that was handled so resolutely by President Cleveland was attracting attention, and I read in the paper an article written with a view to giving the British side. There were several Latin quotations in it, and it seemed to me rather the work of a scholar than a statesman. Without any definite object in view, I went to the office of the journal and asked who wrote the article. I was told that it had been sent in from a mining camp in the vicinity, but that was all the editor knew about it. I went to the camp and found there a man working with a pick and shovel whose appearance belied his calling. His accent was that of a well bred Englishman. He called himself Bill Anderson.

I talked about the article I had read in the Georgetown paper, condemning it bitterly as a British argument against the Monroe doctrine, watching Anderson to observe the effect my words had upon him. I could see that I was riling him, but he maintained silence.

"I've been told," I said, "that some one in this camp wrote that article." Anderson shot a suspicious glance at me.

"Whoever wrote it is a university man," I continued. "Miners don't quote Latin." Anderson turned and was stalking away through a thick growth of trees. I was not sure that he was my man, but I was sure he wished to escape me. I feared that if I let him go I might not get him again. It would be impossible to get in the fact that I wanted him for his advantage. I must take him by proceeding as if he were a criminal.

"You! Anderson!" I shouted. "I want you." He turned, drew a revolver from his hip and fired at me, the bullet singing near my ear, then turned and ran like a deer. I followed him and saw him go into a cabin. I called to the others who were following me to help me capture him without bloodshed. They consented to surround the cabin on condition that I would make good my claim to him under the law. I promised. When the circle had been completed I sent one of the men to him with the letter that had been received from England. Then I waited to learn if I had the right or the wrong man.

Presently the two came out of the cabin, Anderson's or, rather, Thornton's, face aglow with a pleasurable excitement. He advanced to me with a "Thank God I missed you," extended his hand and acknowledged himself to be Ralph Thornton.

He went east with me and sailed on the next steamer for England.

TRAIN CRASHES INTO HANDCAR; TWO MEN ARE BADLY INJURED

Two Others Hurt; One Man Hurl'd Fifty Feet

Two men were badly hurt and two others were painfully hurt Thursday morning at 6:10 a. m. when a hand car on which they were riding had a collision 200 yards west of the Mineral Springs N. & W. station in Adams county, with a west bound gravel train in charge of Engineer Frank Puckett, of this city.

Fred Barney was hurled nearly 50 feet when the crash came, his body being found at the bottom of a deep ravine, where it had rolled. Clifford Barney, his brother, was hurled 25 feet from the hand car. They were both badly injured and were brought to the Hempstead Hospital last night on the N. & W. train.

Frank Robinson, section boss at Mineral Springs, and Jesse Damaron, who were also on the hand car riding to their work east of Mineral Springs, were tossed from the car. Robinson, who resides at Jaybird, had his nose mashed and was injured about the back. Damaron escaped with bruises.

The collision, it is claimed, resulted when a workman failed to flag the westbound gravel train. The section boss sent a man to Mineral Springs to flag the train, but it is claimed that he listened to another employee not to use the flag and the collision resulted. The man whistled to the engine when he realized that the wreck was inevitable but the sound of his whistle was drowned out by the rattle of the engine and a few seconds later the engine and hand car collided on a sharp curve near the spot where an evening N. & W. train recently left the rails and turned over.

All the men on the hand car are well known in vicinity of Mineral Springs. Fred and Clifford Barney reside at Beaver Pond, two miles west of Mineral Springs.

According to information secured from the scene of the wreck, it resulted from a conflict of orders among the section men and N. & W. officials will no doubt fully investigate the affair.

At the Hempstead hospital this morning it was stated that Fred and Clifford Barney were resting easily. Dr. J. S. Bardin, who is looking after the injuries of Fred and Clifford Barney, is doubtful of the exact injuries to Fred Barney's right hip. Thursday morning an X-ray picture was taken of the hip. The development of the picture will show whether or not there is a fracture.

Moses Barney of Beaver Pond, father of the Barneys and Hiram Barney of Marshall, O., brother of the Barneys, arrived Wednesday night to be at the bedside of their injured relative.

He warned the city auditor not to proceed to advertise

Limbs come from trees and people. They are seen on trees, in courtrooms, on the stage and at the seashore. They may be covered with bark, plaster or silk, as the case may be.

Limbs are useful in many ways. Fellows who are very economical and therefore never get into deep water, use only one at a time. Soldiers use them for various purposes, sometimes standing upon them and sometimes running away.

Limbs are made of cork, wood or bone. Cork limbs are useful as life preservers. Wooden limbs can be taken off and used for purposes of defense. Bone limbs often enable one to get on one's feet.—Life.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY LOSES WHILE HEIRS PROFIT IN ENO WILL CASE

MISS MARY ENO.

New York, July 27.—Amos F. Eno was mentally incompetent when he drew a will in June 1915, which bequeathed more than $1,000,000 of his $12,000,000 estate to Columbia University. This was the verdict of a jury in Surrogate's court reached in four hours at the completion of a trial which lasted eight weeks and a half.

Those who profit most are Amos R. E. Pinchot and Gifford Pinchot and Lady Antoinette Johnstone of London, their sister, who if the verdict is upheld will get more than $1,000,000 each instead of $250,000 and Prof. Henry Lane Eno, of Princeton, who will get $2,600,000 instead of $500,000.

The earlier will bequeathed the entire residuary estate to Henry C. Eno and Mary E. Pinchot, who since have died. The Pinchots and their sister will get their mother's share and Prof. Eno will get his father's share. The share of Prof. Eno's son, Amos R., however, will be cut from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000.

Others whose fortunes are affected by the outcome are Mrs. Antoinette E. Wood, to get $350,000 instead of $250,000; Mrs. Florence C. Graves, $300,000 instead of $250,000; William P. Eno $600,000 instead of $250,000; Mrs. Graves's two children, Leonard and Antoinette $125,000 each instead of $250,000.

Wind Pressure. In meteorological terms a strong wind is anything from twenty-four to thirty-seven miles an hour, a gale from thirty-eight to fifty-five miles and a storm from fifty-six to seventy-five miles. Beyond that it may be described as a hurricane. In the convulsion which destroyed the Tay bridge in December, 1870, the anemometer registered gusts of wind which exceeded 100 miles an hour. The connection between the velocity and the pressure of the wind is not yet known with absolute certainty, but roughly speaking a wind of forty miles an hour produces a pressure of eight pounds to the square foot and fifty-one miles a pressure of thirteen pounds.—London Chronicle.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, July 27.—Railroad shares yielded to further pressure in today's dull market with concurrent heaviness in various specialties.
Selling pressure was again moderately effective at the dull opening of today's market specialties like Industrial Alcohol, Mexican Petroleum, Goodrich and some of the more distinctive munitions and motors recording substantial fractions or more. United States Steel continued sluggish with rails and other investments. There was further heavy trading in the new French notes, the first transaction comprising a block of $300,000 at 98, unchanged from yesterday's final quotation. Secondary prices were mostly better specialties rallying on light inquiry.

Lack of leadership or initiative because more marked towards midday when trading was almost motionless and prices were again inclined downward. The increasing heaviness of active rails was responsible for declines elsewhere. Canadian Pacific, Soo, Reading, Norfolk and Western, Chesapeake and Ohio and Erie were lower by 1 to 1 1/2 points. Among specialties, Goodrich, Texas Company, Alcoa, the Fertilizers, Virginia Coal and Coke and Atlantic Gulf and West Indies were down 1 to 2 points. Steel, munitions and motors were slightly more steady but extremely dull. Bonds were irregular.
An extreme rise of 7 points in Sears-Roebuck was the main feature of the last hour, leading stocks making slight recoveries. The closing was irregular.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, July 27.—Wheat prices went up with a rush today, jumping in some cases amounting to 1 1/2 to 2 cents a bushel. Opening quotations, which ranged from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 to 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 higher, were followed by some reactions from initial top figures with the market steadying at an average advance of 3/4 to 1 cent compared with yesterday's close. Opening prices for September's were $1.21 to $1.21 1/4 and $1.21 1/2 to $1.27 for December.

Values closed unsettled 3/4 to 1 cent higher with September at $1.23 1/4 to $1.24 and December at $1.26 1/4.

Dry weather gave strength to corn. Some reports that the crop was firing were received. After opening 1/4 to 1/2 higher, the market scored slight additional gains.

Oats like corn showed only a moderate degree of firmness.

The contrast with the extreme bulge in wheat was especially noticeable.

Provisions were comparatively neglected. Values did not change to any significant degree. In large dealings declines took place owing to eastern selling of lard.

The Inside of The White Slave Traffic

It has been the talk of the entire world for two years. Today it is the talk of Portsmouth. Hundreds of Portsmouth's best critics pronounced it the most wonderful film they ever saw. It's the original, authentic, authorized picture written by Samuel H. London, the international investigator who was selected by John D. Rockefeller to solve the White Slave Problem.

CITY SWELTERS IN GRASP OF A REAL HEAT WAVE; 100 AT 2:30

Portsmouth sweltered through the warmest day of the summer Thursday and incidentally one of the hottest days in its history, according to Weather Observer Dr. Harry Schirrmann.

The official temperature at 2:30 was exactly 100. When Dr. Schirrmann repaired to his weather machine in the rear of his yard at his home, Eighth and Chillicothe street, accompanied by a Times reporter and gazed at the weather-recording thermometer the mercury poised exactly at the 100 mark.

Street thermometers today registered as high as 105 degrees, the thermometer in front of Albert Zoellner's jewelry store registering 103 at 2:30 this afternoon.

The minimum today was 70, the night being exceedingly warm and sultry, there being practically no breezes in evidence whatever.

The warmest day in 1915 was July 31, when 95 was recorded. In 1914 the city had many terrifically warm days as for instance on July 9, 1914 the mercury touched 100 before it began to creep downward slowly. On July 12 it soared to 105, the hottest day of 1914. On July 24 it registered 100 and 101 on July 24.

Dewey Bates, a young man who was employed by Mrs. J. D. Bridges, Sixth and Washington streets Thursday afternoon to mow her lawn, was overcome by the heat. The young man was at work when affected. He dropped unconscious. Children noticing him, called Mrs. Bridges, who hurriedly got a glass of water and poured it upon his head. This revived him. He was then sent to his home on Fifth street.

Warning Issued Against Fake Plague Remedies

Washington, July 27.—Warning was issued to the public today by the Department of Agriculture to look with extreme suspicion upon any preparation put on the market and offered for sale as being effective for the treatment of infantile paralysis. Department officials charged with the enforcement of the food and drugs act, the announcement states, expect the outbreak of infantile paralysis will tempt unscrupulous persons to offer for sale so-called "cures" or remedies for this dread malady.

They therefore have issued special instructions to food and drug inspectors to be particularly alert for interstate shipments or importations of medicines, the makers of which all claim that they will cure or alleviate this disease, for at the present time no medical cure is known.

Inspectors have been instructed to collect samples of all such medicines. Interstate commerce officials declare the makers will be vigorously prosecuted whenever the evidence warrants action under the Foods and Drugs Act.

Such remedies offered for import will be refused entry. Government officials have noted that in the past whenever a serious epidemic has existed, unscrupulous dealers have preyed upon the fear or ignorance of the public by flooding the market with worthless, hastily prepared concoctions for which curative properties they have no foundation whatever in fact, it is asserted. In the present infantile paralysis epidemic inspectors already have discovered shipments of a few such mixtures.

Train Victim Was Buried This Afternoon

John Jenkins, of Firebrick, near South Webster, who received serious injuries Tuesday evening when the Maxwell touring car he was driving was struck by a B. & O. S-W. train on a grade crossing, spent a very good day Wednesday, and according to attending physicians, will get along unless complications set in.

Thomas Hughes and Henry Heller, who were slightly injured, are feeling no ill effects from their injuries.

The funeral of Calvin Jenkins, who was killed in the accident, was held at one o'clock this afternoon from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jenkins, at Firebrick. Mrs. George Holman, of this city, sister of John Jenkins, is at Firebrick, and attended the funeral of her nephew.

What is left of the demolished car is still lying along the track.

British Casualties

London, July 27.—The severity of the fighting since the beginning of the present offensive on the western front is indicated by the list of casualties among officers issued by the war office showing for the first three weeks of July, 1,108 killed, 2,844 wounded and 491 missing, a total of 4,443.

This makes the aggregate loss since the beginning of the war, 43,857, of which 10,105 were killed, 21,290 wounded, and 2,462 missing.

J. W. O'Brien, of Henley, was in the city on business Wednesday.

Hamilton Co. Committee For Herrick, Daugherty Not Worried

The Enquirer today carried the following: "Following a vigorous discussion, during which effort was made to prevent action, the Hamilton County Republican Executive Committee yesterday endorsed the candidacy of former Governor Myron T. Herrick for the nomination for United States Senator by a unanimous vote."

"Two hours later the County Central Committee ratified the course of the executives."

"R. K. Hynicka presided at both meetings. Five absentees among the executives, L. L. Rauh, E. W. Edwards, John V. Campbell, Leonard S. Smith and John R. Holmes, were out of the city. Albert H. Morrell, champion of the cause of Harry M. Daugherty for the senatorship, opposed the endorsement of Herrick, but he had little support."

"There was no discussion as to the merits of individual candidates on the state ticket."

"The consideration of endorsements other than that of Mr. Herrick will be taken up at a special meeting of the executives in a few days. Up-state friends of Governor Willis have expressed the opinion that for the Hamilton county vote to declare for him would be to hurt his candidacy among the days. It is probable the executives will go through with the program outlined and get behind the candidates mentioned."

Before the meeting yesterday Chairman Hynicka received a telegram from the chairman of a committee of 75 newspapers supporting the candidacy of Harry M. Daugherty, asking that Hamilton county, make no endorsement on the senatorship, but the request had no effect.

Columbus, O., July 26.—Upon hearing from Cincinnati of the endorsement of Myron T. Herrick for United States senator, Harry M. Daugherty authorized the following statement in comment upon that action:

"An effort has been constantly on for some time to force an endorsement of Governor Herrick by the Hamilton County Committee. The reasons for this committee having reluctantly endorsed him at this time are well known. The desperate condition of his campaign throughout the state required something of his character to bolster up his candidacy. The effect has been disheartened. As the Times-Star has said, there is no genuine sentiment among the Republican voters in Hamilton county for the endorsement of Mr. Herrick."

"This action will not affect the nomination, except probably to increase my majority."

Three Take Shelter Under A Tree; Killed By Lightning

Relative to three men being struck by lightning and killed while seeking shelter under a tree during a storm that swept Lewis county, Kentucky several days ago the Vanceburg Sun of this week's issue says:

Wm. Esham, Marshall Howell and Robert Lightner were instantly killed when lightning struck a tree under which they took shelter during a storm.

Howell and Lightner were working for and with Esham in his tobacco patch when the storm came up and they took shelter under a poplar tree. The tree was struck by lightning and Esham and Howell were instantly killed and Lightner died later. The accident occurred on Esham's farm on the Esham fork of Holly. The bodies were discovered by Esham's wife, who went in search of them when they didn't come to supper.

Coroner H. M. Bertram went to the scene and rendered a verdict of accidental killing. Esham, who is a brother of Dick Esham, leaves a wife and three children. He was well known here. Howell is a son of James Howell and is unmarried, as is Lightner.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen.

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupor, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Fights With Man Over Whom She Attempted To Kill Self

As a sequel to the attempt of a woman known as Lucy Herron, living on Gay street, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, Monday evening, to commit suicide by leaping into the Scioto river, she and her alleged lover, Carl Hagermann, were arrested in the North End Thursday noon and taken to the police station, on a charge of fighting.

The Herron woman several weeks ago went to Mayor H. H. Kaps and complained about the trouble she was having with Carl Hagermann, the chief executive says. Then on Monday evening, John Williams and a party of friends noticed a woman acting strangely near the Stockham ice plant, Eleventh and Chillicothe streets, and followed her.

She went to the bank of the Scioto river and attempted to leap into the water, but was restrained. She then told the men that she was tired of life. She told the police when they arrived that she had re-considered and desired to live.

Thursday noon, while under the influence of liquor, the police report, she and Carl Hagermann became embroiled in a free-for-all fight, which drew a large crowd of spectators. The police were notified and arrested both. Hagermann is charged with disorderly conduct and the Herron woman is charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Neither would say what started the trouble.

Petrograd announces the capture of a total of 6,250 prisoners by the Russians in the fighting of Tuesday, when the Teutonic lines were pressed back in the Slonevka region of Volhynia. After the capture of the Turkish fortress of Erzincan, Turkish Armenia, announced yesterday, the Russians continued their pursuit of the Turks to the westward. A depot of war materials was taken at Erzincan, the Russians assert.

Many Germans Are Captured

Petrograd, July 27.—(Via London)—In the battle on Tuesday on the Russian front, 6,250 Teutons were taken prisoners, says the official statement issued today by the Russian war department. The Russians also captured five guns and 22 machine guns.

Russian forces operating in the Caucasus are continuing their pursuit of the retreating Turks, the statement says. In the Turkish fortress of Erzincan the capture of which was announced yesterday the Russians took a depot of war materials.

Hand To Hand Clashes

London, July 27.—Throughout the night the British troops continued to press the Germans with hand to hand encounters at various points on the Somme front in France, says the official British statement issued today.

British Attacks Are Repulsed

Berlin, July 27.—(Via London)—British hand grenade attacks against the German lines to the west of the town of Pozieres in the Somme region were repulsed yesterday according to the announcement made by German headquarters today.

South of the river Somme a French attack launched at a point northeast of Barleux failed, the statement adds.

In the verdant sector several strong French attacks were carried out in the region of Froide Terre and Fleury, but they were repulsed. Fighting continues at some points.

Russian troops last night made a futile storming attack against the German positions on the Schishan river, northwest of Baranovichi, it was announced by the German general staff today. The Russians, it is added, also were sanguinarily repulsed in the region west of Bereshech.

Restrained.

"What is a temporary inflection, pa?" asked little Richard, looking up from the newspaper he was reading. "I'll give you a concrete example of it, my son," replied his father. "Your mother told me this evening that she didn't want me to go to the club. That is a temporary inflection."

"I see, but suppose you go anyhow, what would that be?" "When you have been married as long as I have, my son, you won't ask such foolish questions," said father mildly.—Pittsburgh Press.

has as yet accumulated in any single battle theatre.

Yesterday afternoon an artillery duel of violent proportions signalized the renewal of the struggle. From the intensity of the bombardment it was soon evident that the main effort of the Allies would again be made on the line from Pozieres to Hurdcourt—the sector which was the scene of such bitter fighting from July 20 to July 23. Toward evening an attack was made in strong force by a British division which was headed by picked troops and bomb throwers.

The attackers were able to establish a foothold in the German lines but were later driven out by a German counter-attack. The British also succeeded in entering temporarily the German trench system in the vicinity of Longueval and Guillemont, but here also were finally expelled.

Boy "Truck Jumper" Badly Hurt; Eleven Stitches Taken In Wounds

Jumping on and off automobiles, trucks and buggies and wagons proved costly to Ernest Johnson, colored, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Johnson of 1122 Thirteenth street Thursday morning when he received serious injuries by falling from the Portsmouth Brewing & Ice Company's large truck and was struck by the rear wheel.

Young Johnson and several companions have been hopping on and off wagons and trucks for several days and as the big truck came along Thursday morning they "hung on." Several of the young boys were hanging on the rear end and young Johnson hung onto the side, putting his foot on the front springs. The truck was going west on Thirteenth and as it neared the railroad crossing Johnson lost his hold and fell and the rear wheel hit him a glancing blow.

He was dragged a few feet and his body rolled to one side. He was assisted to his home by Dan Rheid, driver of the truck, and the young companions, and Drs. W. A. Quinn and E. W. Hubert were called.

An examination of the injuries showed that the most serious one was on the inside of the left leg, a gash ten inches long extending from above the knee to a point several inches below the knee. It took fifteen stitches to close the wound. The outside of the left leg was also badly lacerated and bruised near the knee, two stitches being taken in a small cut on the knee. His arm and left side of his face were badly bruised and lacerated.

SEVERAL HURT WHEN STRIKERS ATTACK CAR; STRIKE MAY SPREAD

(BULLETIN)

New York, July 27.—Intention to extend the street car strike to all lines in New York City including surface and elevated, was announced today after a meeting of the general executive board of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees of America.

New York, July 27.—The first serious outbreak in the strike of street car men in the Bronx and Westchester county occurred shortly after noon today when a mob of several hundred strikers and sympathizers attacked a West Plains car in the Bronx. Bricks were hurled at the car and it is reported several persons were hurt. Police reserves and ambulances were summoned.

New York, N. Y., July 27.—Five big cities in which the street railway men are not organized. Upon the arrival here of W. D. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, the motormen and conductors of all the street railways in the city may be asked to join the trolley strike which has tied up lines in the Bronx and in Westchester county. President Mahon is expected to come from Detroit to take charge of the situation.

"It would be a big job to organize the men in this great city," said Patrick O'Brien, vice president of the Employees National Association, "but it is not an impossibility. New York is one of the humidity registered 98 with the temperature only 74. No relief is promised.

Today's record marked the climax of a period of excessive humidity and uncomfortable weather that has lasted for nearly two weeks. What was technically a light rain was falling today, but to New Yorkers the feeling was that the atmosphere was "goin' the rain as the drops appeared more to float than to fall.

The dampness is of penetrating kind and many many householders, although the heat has also been intense, have started fires in their furnaces to dry out their homes.

Chicago Also

Hard Hit

Chicago, July 27.—A period of intense heat in the western plains states, unequalled in continuity and extremely high temperatures since 1901, the year of the hot winds in Kansas, according to the government weather bureau here, probably will continue through the remaining days of July. The forecaster announced today that not a leaf was stirring in the Canadian Northwest, whence relief must come and that there was every indication that except in spots visited by local showers, the drought would be severely felt.

Chicago, which itself has been laved in cooling breezes from the lake, joined the list of sweltering cities today when the wind shifted and came over the city from the hot plains. At 7 o'clock this morning Chicago, with 86 degrees was the hottest point in the United States with the exception of Yuma, Arizona. Throughout the forenoon the temperature steadily mounted, reaching 9 at noon with the prediction that the thermometer would reach approximately 100 at 3 o'clock.

BOYCOTT

New York, July 27.—Statements from a number of firms on the British trade blacklist, insisted today the newly organized association to resist British interference with American trade was not a representative body to even duct the case. At least fifty blacklisted firms are reported to have refused to join this association, and another association is being considered.

KEEPING ABREAST WITH SPORTING TREND

IF WILLARD QUIT

The rumor is still abroad around the sun-baked landscape that Jess Willard will retire.

If this should happen there is one logical procedure in sight—this will be for Frank Moran to face Fred Fulton and for the winner of this bout to take on Jack Dillon.

Dillon, having outpointed Moran so decisively, now holds second place to the massive Kansas. Moran and Fulton are the two next in line, and those are the ones that start the elimination scrimmage.

Kilbane Vs. Chaney

Cleveland, July 27.—Johnny Kilbane, feather-weight champion, may defend his title in a 15-round decision bout at Cedar Point Labor Day against George Chaney, Baltimore challenger.

Matt Hinkel, who offered $15,000 for the bout, said today Manager Jimmy

Is He Back? We'll Say

They were first wondering whether old John Peter Wagner could stand up this season and last out a week or two. Then they began to wonder whether he could bat as high as .250.

By June they were debating as to whether or not he could bat .300 for one more year.

And now they are wondering whether or not the grand Old Fossil is going to lead the league.

For Wagner now is attached to a mark of .235. He is 25 points back of Dave Robertson and Dave is a woolly wolf, but any man who at 42 can climb to .335 can do anything he cares to do.

Reds Defeat Giants; Matty Is Cheered

With Christy Mathewson in full charge of the Redlegs they pounced on the ferocious Giants yesterday, and before 16,000 bugs, who stood on their heels and shouted when Matty appeared upon the field, they beat the McGraw clan, 4 to 2. Pete Schneider far outpitched Saltee, who made his debut in a Giant kimono.

The score:

BETS ON THE WHITE SOX

A Chicago rooster has just wagered $400 that the White Sox will beat out the Red Sox. Well if they do we can name a team that will win the American league pennant, and C is the first letter of its name.

SENDS GROH TO THIRD

Manager Mathewson made a switch in the lineup of the Reds yesterday, sending McKeechie to short and Groh to third base. The Red leader is simply leading his way and it given a free run will no doubt put a first division club in the Queen City.

Cleveland Gets Lohr

Cleveland, July 27.—The Cleveland Baseball club today signed Outfielder Lohr, former Cincinnati Red. Lohr played with Cincinnati two years ago.

WHO WAS UMPIRE?

Golf has claimed Germany Schaefer. Prince Herman took a shot at the game the other day and made his first hole in a triple, two doubles and a sacrifice hit.

Robertson Has Delivered

A few days after the season opened, we were talking with Chief Meyers, the Brooklyn catcher.

"There is one man in this league," remarked the Chief, "who is about ready to prove that he is one of the greatest batters in the game has ever known. I mean Dave Robertson. I have made quite a study of batting, and this fellow is the greatest of them all that I have seen. He is not only a fine outfielder, fast as a streak, with a wonderful arm, but if he doesn't bat over .250 this year I am a bad guesser."

So far the Chief has made good with a rush in the Prophet League. Robertson has been the star of his circuit and, at his present rate of speed, it is no certainty that Cobb, Speaker or Jackson will beat him.

"BRIDGE BOYS" HAVE A FAST TEAM

A large crowd is on hand every Saturday and Sunday afternoon at the McClellan and Marshall ball grounds at the C. and O. Northern bridge site above Sciotoville.

The men working on the bridge have staked off a splendid diamond just east of the small bridge piers and they spend every Saturday afternoon and Sunday on the grounds limbering up their muscles. It is a treat to see the four Canadian Indians on the job whip the sphere across the diamond and clout the "pill" over the heads of the out-landers. The Indians are "quicker as lightning" on the field and in base running. Several college lads who are also working on the bridge are making the games interesting by fast work. The games are played with Sciotoville, Waits Station, Wheelersburg and other small town teams and when no town team can be booked the men play just the same, two teams being selected from the 100 to 150 men at work.

Light Week With Stick

Ralph Sharman, former Portsmouth outfielder who is now with Galveston in the Texas League, had a light week with the stick. In 17 trips to the plate he hit safe only twice giving him an average of .112.

Are Playing With Miners

Chuck McDaniels of this city and Ezra Midkiff, formerly manager of the Huntington Boosters, are now playing with a mining team in West Virginia and are delivering the goods. Their team plays two games a week.

DE BERRY TO GO HIGHER

A New Orleans sport writer in telling about the higher up qualities of Catcher De Berry formerly of the Ohio State says:

"DeBerry is the makings of a good man. If Dabbs doesn't arrange to cover him up, any of the 16 big league clubs can pick him off for $1,500."

Fine Card At Detroit

Detroit, Mich., July 27.—With the free-for-all pace, purse $1,200 as the headline, today's grand circuit program was regarded as one of the best of the week's racing. The Pontchartrain Stake for 2:15 trotters with a purse of $3,000 and the Griswold $2,000 stake for 2:10 pacers were the other events on the card.

A great fight was looked for between Eagle 6, and Russell Boy race at North Randall last week.

Howdy Made Only Bingle

Atlanta in the Southern league recently beat Birmingham 4 to 0 and the only hit Birmingham secured was a double by one of our fellow citizens, Harry Eaton, who sent a line smash over third which netted him a pair of socks. This game was witnessed by Lloyd J. Moorehead, who is nicely located in that city. He was formerly employed here by the Selby shoe company.

Johnston Leads American League In Effective Pitching

Walter Johnston, of the Senators, is the hardest worked and most effective twirler in the American Circuit. He has labored in more than 300 innings to date with an earned run average against him of but 2.05 per game. Close upon his heels, however, are Harry Coveleski, of Detroit, and Stanley Coveleski, of Cleveland.

OUCH!

The Boston players were telling the White Sox about how President Lannin threatened the arrest of George McBridge for his attempt to assault Carl Mays with a bat. "They couldn't prosecute McBridge," said Joe Jackson. "He was never dangerous with a bat."

WANT MATTY TO PITCH

New York, July 27.—It seems as if everybody in New York wants Matty to pitch the last game of the present series. There is a tremendous demand for Big Six to go into the final struggle, and the jam which would pack the Polo Grounds would be a real record-breaker. And maybe the crowd wouldn't be pulling for Matty, either!

League Is On Rocks

Greensboro, N. C., July 27.—The Greensboro Club of the North Carolina League has surrendered its franchise to the league and at a meeting called for today an effort will be made to reorganize. If that is not successful the league probably will disband. Storms that interrupted games and other mishaps have made the season a disastrous one for all clubs.

Albany Quits

August, Ga., July 27.—The Albany team of the South Atlantic League, which was thrown upon the league a week ago, has been disbanded, the league officials failing to place it as they had hoped to do. It was offered both Savannah and Waycross, but neither city seemed interested. The plan now is to drop another team, probably Columbus, and finish the season with six clubs.

Poor Old Leidy

When the history of the Texas league is written, George Leidy will be put down as one of its most remarkable characters and not least of the incidents in his career was his voluntary resignation of his job as an umpire, with the candid statement that he had neither the qualifications of temperament or eyesight to handle the incidents. Would that a score of other umpires, in big leagues and little, could be as honest with themselves and the baseball public. The game would be better off.

SCANDAL.

Be too broad minded to encourage the sin of scandal. When a gossip begins to relate some scandal in your presence say to him, "Come; let us go to that person and see if the story is true!" Hannah More, the English author, always followed that course, and it never failed to work.

The Gordian Knot.
The famous Gordian Knot was made of leather taken from some part of the harness belonging to the chariot of Gordius, king of Phrygia. It seems that this knot was so tied that the ends of the leather thong were not visible, hence the difficulty in loosening it. Many must have tried to untie it for its fame as a "riddle" at last reached the great oracle, which declared that the lucky experimenter should be rewarded by the kingship of Persia. Alexander, trying his hand and meeting with no better success than the others, drew his sword and cut into the knot until he found the ends of it.

Reports Are Made On The Various County Offices

Reports on the examination of the use of the proceeds in the purchase of a cheaper site outside the city and the erection of a modern institution thereon, the commissioners through this department, submitted the question of their rights in the matter to the Attorney General, who in a written opinion dated April 29, 1916, advised the commissioners that they were authorized to make a sale of the property at public sale, the details of the manner of making such sale being a matter to be settled by the exercise of their best business judgment. A copy of the decision has been placed in the hands of the commissioners and the matter of further action rests in their hands.

Relative to the affairs at the Children's Home the examiners say that "George D. Selby, John Peabees, Frank B. Kehou and George D. Scudder compose the board of trustees, while Frank M. Baggs and W. C. Silcox have served as superintendent, covering the period of the examination. The records of the institution were found to be well kept and an audit of bills disclosed no errors or illegal payments.

Concerning the financial affairs of the institution which the former board of county commissioners had charge of, the report says: "Financially, the institute is in a deplorable condition. The fixed charges of the Home are in excess of the income provided by the levy made in previous years, as overdrift in the fund of increasing proportions has grown until at the time of the February, 1916, distribution of taxes, the whole semi-annual distribution then made was consumed and an overdraft of $637.17 left chargeable to the fund, and nothing left to carry the expenses of the institution for the current six months. No legal means for restoring this fund being available, it is understood that public spirited citizens of the county are to furnish the necessary credit to run the Home for the coming six months. This will afford a temporary relief only and must be repaid from increased levies to be made in future years.

"The Children's Home being located on a tract of about eight acres," says the report, "in a most desirable residence section of the city, is extremely valuable as a possible sub-division—within the city. Believing that the best interests of the county might be served by a sale of this site and the use of the proceeds in the purchase of a cheaper site outside the city and the erection of a modern institution thereon, the commissioners through this department, submitted the question of their rights in the matter to the Attorney General, who in a written opinion dated April 29, 1916, advised the commissioners that they were authorized to make a sale of the property at public sale, the details of the manner of making such sale being a matter to be settled by the exercise of their best business judgment. A copy of the decision has been placed in the hands of the commissioners and the matter of further action rests in their hands.

During the period over which the examination covers, Joseph L. Switalski and Henry Becker were incumbents of the office of county recorder. The report says that the records of the office have been kept in the "most excellent manner" by the officials.

But one little error was found. In the salary of Joe Switalski, it is claimed that an overdraft of $19.50 was made. This money was paid to Mr. Switalski without warrants.

The present county board of education consists of J. S. Violet, president, Albert Pyles, vice president, J. F. Shela, A. B. Me. Bride and A. G. Stevens. E. O. McCowen is county superintendent, having been elected July 14, 1914, for a period of three years at a salary of $3,000 per annum.

"The county," the report on the county school department says, "is divided into two districts for supervision purposes, the district superintendents receiving a salary of $1,500 each.

"The records of the board are fully and neatly kept by Superintendent McCowen as clerk of the board. The fees for examination were checked and found correct and payments into the treasury were promptly made."

The report submitted to the commissioners carried an insert stating that the services rendered by County Auditor S. D. Eckhart were meritorious and that Mr.

Eckhart efficiently assisted in re-arranging the affairs of the county in that department.

Grover C. Kinley and John J. Harper were incumbents of the county engineer's office during the period of the examination made several weeks ago. Concerning the results of the examination the examiners say:

"It is found that Ex-Surveyor Grover C. Kinley has through error drawn the sum of $5 without due warrant or authority of law, which said sum should be paid by him into the treasury.

"The records of the surveyor's office are neatly kept in accordance with law. The record of estimates is kept but not with the detail desired. The record used is an old one without proper rulings or space for sufficient details concerning contracts and estimates thereon as issued by the surveyor. A better form was suggested to Mr. Harper and he will procure and maintain it at an early date."

Cleveland, July 27.—The possibility that the city may be compelled to abandon not only the search for the bodies of the workmen still entombed in the water-works tunnel here as a result of Monday night's explosion, but all further work on the tunnel itself, loomed here today as the result of further investigations by L. M. Jones, of Pittsburgh, government mining expert. This possibility was seen in Jones' expressed belief that a gas well of uncontrollable proportions had been uncovered in the bed of the lake as the result of the tunnel explosion. Tests made today showed gas in the tunnel exceeded five percent, a highly explosive ratio despite the installation of a giant fan, which has been whipping the gas-laden air from the tunnel since yesterday.

Expert Jones said today the sand and gravel taken from the tunnel is of a mixture similar to that in the gas fields in Lakewood, a suburb nearly opposite the point in the lake where the tunnel is being constructed and indicates the presence of a natural gas well of monster size.

If it possible rescue parties will enter the tunnel today, but the entombed bodies are behind a cave-in nearly three hundred feet long and it is feared the gas is so dense in the tube that men will be unable to stay in the tunnel long enough to dig through this distance.

Water works officials said today they believe there are only nine bodies in the tunnel instead of eleven, as previously estimated.

Patrick Kerans, supposed to be among the entombed, turned up alive today. He had overstayed shore leave Monday and missed death by a close margin. Justice Aro, another thought to be with the ill-fated force, has also been reported as alive. This reduces the total loss of life in the disaster to nineteen.

Baltimore, Md., July 27.—If Captain Paul Koenig, of the merchant submarine, Deutschland, plans to start today on the return voyage to Germany, there was nothing going on this morning at the pier, where the submarine is berthed, that was any more indicative of departure than has been the case for the last few days.

Overnight developments, in fact, tended to increase the probability of a report late last night that it had been decided to hold the Deutschland here until some word has been received concerning her sister ship, the Bremen.

When Carl A. Luderitz, German consul here, announced that the reception to Ambassador Von Bunsen, which he planned at his home for last evening, had been indefinitely postponed, he was asked when the Deutschland would leave.

"She will not leave for a week," answered Mr. Luderitz. He would not add to this statement, however, when he was asked the cause of further delay in the vessel's departure, although clearance papers have been taken out. The postponement of the reception to the Ambassador was owing to his inability to come here last night, Mr. Luderitz said.

The Deutschland crew slept aboard the interned North German Lloyd steamer, Neckar, last night.

The articles must be confined to about 750 words, and each contestant must refer to each and every advertisement on this page. Each writer must specifically mention the name of the concern, its location, what it offers for sale and at least one reason why it should be patronized.

These articles must be signed by the writer. Or better still let each contestant write his or her name on a small piece of paper and pin the same to the manuscript. This will obviate the erasing of the names of the contestants when the papers are turned over to the judges.

These articles must be brought or mailed to the Times office by not later than Monday, August 7. No further time allowed.

Contestants must write on but one side of the paper and in a legible hand. The contestants should by all means get in close touch with the firms advertised on this page. It would not be a bad idea for those who intend to participate in this contest to make a personal visit to each of the firms—by doing this you will be in a position to write more intelligently. Those who expect to compete in this contest should get busy at once, for there is no time to lose. Those who win prizes will be paid immediately upon the receipt of the judges' decision.

The contestants will be expected to write their own contributions, although they are at liberty to obtain suggestions from anyone they may see fit. Get busy, school children—show your capabilities along literary lines. Earn some vacation money.

FOUR WARSHIPS ON NEUTRALITY DUTY OFF THE VIRGINIA CAPES

Washington, D. C., July 27.—The armored cruiser North Carolina, and three United States destroyers were on neutrality duty today outside the Virginia Capes, where allied warships are hovering, in wait for the German submarine, Deutschland, about to leave Baltimore for Germany and the submarine, Bremen, expected hourly from across the seas.

The American war vessels went to sea yesterday on orders from the navy department after a vessel purporting to be a British warship had passed into Chesapeake Bay and out again in the early morning hours.

Officials were silent as to just what instructions went to the North Carolina. It was assumed, however, its commander was ordered to see that the submarines were not attacked within the three mile limit and that American neutrality was not otherwise violated.

Berlin, July 26.—(Via London, July 27)—The Manifesto to the working class, issued by the Socialist Executive Committee and the general commission of labor unions, appealing against the general strike which the leaders of the Liebknecht branch of the Socialists are endeavoring to organize, reads as follows:

"The prolonged war weighs heavily on all nations and entails great sacrifices. It severely tests the endurance of those at home and at the front and it is natural that ill-feeling and discontent should develop. This situation is unfortunately being abused by irresponsible individuals who wish to mislead labor in resorting to measures which are not in the slightest adapted to relieve the burden, but rather to increase it. An attempt is being made, through anonymous leaflets, which have been circulating for several months among members of the party and of unions, to sow hatred and distrust against the deputies chosen by the workmen themselves. The charge launched against these men, who for years have stood at the head of the organization of German labor classes, is that they are sacrificing Socialist principles, have disregarded decisions of German Socialist party convention, have perpetrated party treason.

"Such insinuations and abuse could be disregarded if labor were not urged by unworthy propagandists for whose actions Socialist labor must disclaim all responsibility. The consequences must be borne by the individual participants, and neither party nor unions can and for the aid of the wives and widows of soldiers and the wounded. We must, however, refuse to resort to measures which are sure to fail. "Immediately after the declaration of a state of war, we issued a warning against reckless action, referring to the penalties of martial law, and we renew that warning today. Just now, when our brothers in uniform on all fronts must withstand a mighty onslaught by the armies of our enemies, and must make indescribable sacrifices, and when, just before the harvest, the supply presents the greatest difficulties, each thoughtless action may be fatal, and above all, strike, labor itself the severest blow.

DRUGLESS HEALING

Tells How Nerve Insulation Quickly Stops All Pain and Alleviates The Inflammation. Even Rheumatism, Sciatica And Neuritis Yield To Marvelous New Discovery.

The nerves of your body are like electric wires. They carry the nerve energy (neuro-electricity) which is generated in the brain, to all the cells and tissues. The nerve sheaths are insulated to resist a current of about 4-1000 volts as has been proven with the aid of Lord Kelvin's galvanometer, an instrument so sensitive and accurate that for the first time it is now possible to measure the strength of nerve currents.

It has been found that wherever acute inflammation occurs the insulation of the nerves is broken down, making it difficult, and often impossible, for nature to heal the surrounding cells. Germs cannot live in healthy tissue, it is only through damaged cells that they thrive and spread. Obviously therefore, the right way to successfully

Visit the local stores and you will find the latest in shoes and coats. Velvet hats may be worn now, if you haven't any other kind of a hat. Personally, I think summer hats should be worn at least until the middle of September.

Dear Dolly—What will clean a white ivory toilet set? MILDRED.

Make a sudsy of white castile soap, and wash each piece carefully, being careful not to get water back of the and how to remove it. ANXIOUS TO KNOW. Gasoline or benzine will take it out.

Dear Dolly—Please tell me how to take olive oil and grape juice, as I have not a very strong stomach and would like to gain weight.

If your digestion is weak, do not take the olive oil, for it will do you no good if you have to force it, or it is obnoxious for you to take. At this time of the year it is not so beneficial as it is 100 per cent fat and too heating. Take it on dairy salads and in mayonnaise and you will enjoy it more and get all the good effects. Put lemon juice with it in salad dressing instead of vinegar. The proper amount as a tonic is one tablespoonful of grape juice and one of olive oil several times each day. Do not take the whisky. You should take raw eggs and milk, cereals, potatoes, rice, sweet potatoes, macaroni, cheese, butter and other fattening foods. Never eat unless hungry.

Ink Stains Ink stains may be removed with oxalic acid or salts of lemon. If oxalic acid solution is used, let stand a few minutes, then rinse in ample water.

BEAUTY SECRETS

By Madame X

SUMMER is one of woman's most dreaded enemies. Chief among the ills it brings are poor complexion, heat sickness, peevish, high-strung nerves and that tired, muggy feeling of general discomfort—all results of the weather. The heat is causing your cells to break down and turn to waste matter at a much faster rate. This waste matter is poisoning your system and irritating your nerves. Relief is only secured when it escapes or is eliminated—largely through the pores.

Hence the necessity of keeping the pores and skin as clean as possible—far more so than in cooler weather. Help the poisons to escape rapidly, leaving your complexion clear and your spirits as fresh and full of life as during the cool season.

As a means of keeping the pores clean and open, I cannot too strongly insist upon the importance of the daily warm or hot bath. It expands the pores and allows the poisonous waste to pass out. It softens and clears the complexion. Not only this but it acts as a refreshing tonic, at once soothing and strengthening the nerves.

"But a daily warm bath—that means ever so much work!" you say. "The labor of heating the water makes it impossible."

I can only answer that I have not found it so. My secret? I give it freely. My home has that indispensable comfort, a Gas Water Heater—always ready to give me abundant hot water when I need it, merely at the lighting of a burner. So simple—yet so effective and really economical. I earnestly advise you to get one, if you have not one already.

We cannot avoid summer, but we can largely avoid its baneful effects. My recipe is: a daily bath, in warm or hot water, secured with as little exertion as possible—preferably by means of a Gas Water Heater.

NO better way to satisfy an enthusiastic appetite than with Uneeda Biscuits. A delightful food, as appetizing as it is nourishing and wholesome. Perfect baking, perfect protection, they come to you with oven-freshness.

Council Takes No Action On Street Fair Ordinance, Hilltop Sewer Is Certainty

A busy session of city council was held Wednesday night, as twenty-seven ordinances and resolutions were passed under suspended rules. And the famous Street Fair licensing ordinance nor the "near side" street car ordinance were not mentioned, except when a "pussy foot" vote was taken to determine the status of opinion.

The ordinance which would license all street fairs and carnivals, charging them $100 per diem will pass at the next meeting of city council, which will be held Wednesday evening, August 2, unless the sentiment among the councilmen changes radically.

The measure has been up for its second reading and will be finally decided August 2. There is opposition to the bill but the majority, according to a canvass, is in favor of the ordinance.

To Award Hilltop Sewer Contract

One of the most important measures passed last evening by council was the resolution authorizing the awarding of the contract for the construction of the Hilltop sewer system. This is the foundation of the city's future sanitary sewer system.

The first unit is to cost about $42,000. This is computed to care for all sanitary requirements of the territory east of Chillicothe street and north of Robinson avenue.

The engineer's estimate for excavating the Damarin hill landslide was received and referred to the service department. The legislation is ordered. The estimate is $5,000.

Complaints of a man-hole at Chillicothe and Third streets and some lumber piled on a sidewalk, Sixth street, near the Donaldson Lumber Company were referred to the service department.

To Present Views At Next Meeting

Service Director Ralph Calvert reported that a representative of the Portsmouth Street Railway and Light Company had assured him that they would present their views of adding extra car service at the next regular meeting.

A damage claim for $800 alleged due from the construction of the flood wall addition was filed by Holcomb and Holcomb, attorneys, representing the Treat estate. The lot is located on Mill street, outside the wall.

INCREASED PAY FOR OFFICERS IS PROPOSED

Washington, July 27.—Increased pay for officers and men of the Regular Army and National Guard in active service for the Mexican emergency, improved conditions to safeguard their health, and authorization for them to vote in the field at the coming Presidential election were provided in amendments to the army appropriation bill agreed late yesterday by the Senate.

By a vote of 44 to 13, the Senate

also suspended the rules to adopt an amendment changing the age minimum for enlistment in the regular army from 18 to 21 years without the consent of parent or guardian. Under the provisions boys under 21 now serving in the army, would not be retained in the service unless they filed within 30 days the written consent of their parents, or guardians. The amendment was adopted without a roll-call.

Refused To Pay For Pool Game; Arrested

Refusal to pay for a game of pool, which they played at the Marshall saloon Wednesday evening, brought two men giving the names of Mathew Moe and T. O. Brandy into police court Thursday morning on charges of disorderly conduct. The pair admitted that they had refused to pay for the game.

The proprietor of the saloon testified that the men refused to pay, and when he demanded security while they raised the money, one put up his watch and left. Later he said the police came back and said that the men told them that he had taken the watch away by flashing a gun.

A fine of $10 and costs was leveled out to each.

Carl Dorey and Harry Beasley pleaded guilty to charges of drunkenness and were fined $5 each. William Collins, a strange negro, pleaded not guilty to a charge of stealing two dollars from Jean Petyford, North End. He is being held pending investigation. Collins broke and ran when the police approached the Petyford restaurant.

Horse Runs Away; Is Caught At New Boston

Wheeler Bussa, who lives just above Sciotoville, came near losing his fine year old horse several nights ago, when the animal ran from Sciotoville to New Boston.

Mr. Bussa and family went to a tent meeting just above Sciotoville in their horse and buggy. He hitched the horse from the buggy and tied it to a tree. Some unknown party unfastened the hitching strap and started the horse down the pike toward home. Several dogs on the way ran after the horse and scared him and the horse continued on past Mr. Bussa's home toward New Boston.

Mr. Bussa and his twelve-year-old son, Chester, started on a hunt for the horse as soon as it was discovered he was missing. They walked to New Boston inquiring along the way about the horse and were told it was last seen going toward New Boston. Pete Backus, a New Boston baker, caught the horse and put him in the Brown livery barn, on Park avenue, where Mr. Bussa found him.

The horse lost nearly all his harness and in running lost two shoes. The animal was also badly cut and must have run into a fence somewhere along the pike. Mr. Bussa wishes to thank the baker and liveryman for taking care of his horse.

Looking For Man Who Robbed Fellow Boarder

The police are looking for a man giving the name of James Jones, whom they say walked away from the boarding house operated by Arminta R. Dameron, 1355 Gallia street with a black traveling bag containing some valuable insurance papers belonging to Willard Greer and a pair of ox-fords belonging to Ernest Chapman and about four dollars in change.

Mrs. Dameron says that the man came to her house about five days ago, representing to her that he was employed at The Times office. He left Wednesday afternoon without paying his bill, and shortly after he left several articles were found missing.

No such man has ever been employed at The Times.

Accounts Of City Treasurer Are Found Correct, Report Submitted

Pursuant to the request of Mayor H. H. Kaps and the subsequent examination of the office city treasurer and water works collector, made by E. F. McGuire, state examiner, shortly after the death of the late D. E. Edwards, city treasurer, finds the records of the office in excellent condition, according to a report submitted to Treasurer John F. Eckhart and Auditor L. A. Zaeker, Wednesday.

Commenting, the report says: "The accounts of the city treasurer and water works collector as shown by the records of these departments, and the records of the city auditor and the statements of the banks in which the city funds are deposited, were found correct."

"Owing to the method of bookkeeping in use in both the treasurer's and auditor's departments, it is difficult to determine from these reports jointly, the cash balance that should be in the city depositories to the credit of the city treasurer on any date.

"These conditions are due to the following customs: Collections are deposited in the city treasury without notifying the city auditor at the time, and very often three or four weeks with elapse before the auditor has any knowledge of these transactions, and as a result the books of the auditor during these intervals, will not agree with the books of the treasurer nor with the depositories, as to the receipts.

"These methods should be abandoned as they serve only to complicate the accounts. When money is paid into the city treasury it should be done on pay-in-orders of the city auditor, and the actual date of the transaction should appear on the books of these officials.

"The manner in which the water consumers' ledger and cash book are kept deserve special mention. These records are kept by a clerk employed by the water works collector, and paid by him personally. The water rent accounts are all that pertain to good bookkeeping, accuracy and neatness of the records, were found in first class condition.

"The records of receipts and disbursements as kept in the office of the city treasurer and in the office of the city auditor are accurate and exceedingly neat in appearance, and except as to the discrepancies in dates previously referred to no criticism can be offered."

George Marsel, employed by the Interstate Transfer Company, was overcome by heat while handling freight at the South Portsmouth C. & O. depot this morning. He was removed to his home, in Beattyville, where he soon revived.

Disorderly Negro Fined

Henry Morrow, negro employed at the C. Y. Ligon construction camp, was arraigned before Squire John W. Byron late Wednesday afternoon on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was fined $5 and costs. Being unable to pay he was remanded to jail.

Morrow was arrested Monday by Deputy Sheriff Jacob Baer at the Ligon camp following the negro's bombardment of the inhabitants of that community with rocks. Morrow was intoxicated, the officials say.

BEAR SCARE

John Phillips of near St. Paul, Ky., reported Wednesday that the bear seen in that vicinity recently made its appearance again Wednesday and frightened residents of that territory. Several dogs, it is said, were put on the bear's track and one of the dogs later returned badly injured. People who live near the bear's haunts think the dog was attacked by the bear.

HITCHING POSTS ON LOWER MARKET

Iron hitching posts are being placed on both sides of the Market street esplanade by the city. The hitching posts were ordered placed on the "square" after Market street merchants had complained of horses being hitched in front of their places almost continuously.

THAT MUCH DUE THEM

Except for four candidates for county commissioners, there are no contests on the Democratic nominations for Scioto county. Ordinarily this would mean a very light vote. But conditions can not be stated as ordinary, this year. They are unusual in that Woodrow Wilson is a candidate for re-nomination. He is an extraordinary man and this career as president attains an equal altitude. No executive has ever had so many, so important and so perplexing problems to meet. In patience that was sublime, in calmness that was inspiring, he has met them and in wisdom that was wonderful he has solved them to the honor, peace and prosperity of the people. The people owe him something, they owe him much. It will be gracious, it will be only right if they assure him of their appreciation. The only distinct way they can do that in the immediate present is by giving him, through his party voters, a big and rousing endorsement by votes. Let therefore the Democrats of Scioto county turn out to a man at the primaries on August 8 and show Woodrow Wilson they are with him and they believe in the things he believes in.

By the same token should they turn out for their own personal representative in the administration, Senator Allee Pomerene. He as has no other senator has enjoyed the confidence of President Wilson, who has often constituted him his personal representative on the floor of the senate. Pomerene has stood staunch and true, he is recognized as one of the big men at Washington. His enemies, the enemies of the honest and loyal Democracy, are fighting him, not because they have any possible chance of defeating him in the primary, but because they wish to discredit him against reelection in November. They would bargain and betray him as they have other good Democrats, who dared to be Democrats responsive to mankind and public duty. The Democrats of Scioto county, who for so many years gallantly and steadfastly kept the faith, when everywhere else there was doubt and desertion, should and will be the last to countenance such foul tactics, even by indifference.

Remember the primaries and vote on August 8.

TRANQUIL TAZEWELL

The World-News of Roanoke paints Tazewell county, Virginia, as the one place where all is serene and no storm, all sunshine and no clouds. It declares the county has immense crops, fine horses, unsurpassed roads, the people vote for the best man for office and everybody is prosperous and happy, so content that they can't stir up even a wet and dry discussion. Joyous, tranquil Tazewell, if such be the case. But we don't believe it is, we don't even believe such a paradise can be possible on this mundane sphere or so much of it as is embraced in America. We'll admit the crops, the horses, the roads, everybody frolicking, we'll even concede the seemingly impossible, that no riot can be started over the liquor question, but when it comes to all the voters voting for the best man there we halt and our credulity ends. We know a thing or two about running for office and we know several thousand voters. On top of that we know how they vote. The best man is the last, not the first, consideration with the voter everywhere, and exceptional as she seems to be, tranquil Tazewell is still a part of the everywhere. We heard a man say just the other day, Woodrow Wilson was the best, the greatest president the country ever had, but he rejected with indignation the suggestion that he concrete his high opinion with his lowly vote—Woodrow wasn't on his ticket. We heard another man say he wouldn't vote for that candidate because he wore clothes that were clean and fit; we heard another say he wouldn't vote for another because he wore a celluloid collar. Why an intelligent elector swore he would never vote for that fellow because his wife put on too many airs. A dozen avow they won't support him because he is from town and equal number reject him because he is a Robe from the country. Narry a word about giving the good man a boost because he is good.

So Abe Lilly concedes his defeat in West Virginia and says it is all right and henceforth and forever he is going to be a good Indian. Did anyone actually suppose he would say anything else?

Of course, the Maine Republicans are actually burning up with hot enthusiasm and prove it beyond doubt when they cast 17,000 votes in the senatorial primary.

Anyway, it can be said that the men who run the street cars ought to know about as much as anybody else on which side of the street they ought to stop. But it isn't so much concern of the public whether the cars stop either or you, as it is the statement that Portsmouth has fifty per cent less accidents than any other street car town of like size. We know we have got the best service and the most accommodating car men and it is pleasant to learn their efficiency is on a par with their courtesy.

Visitor told us the most wonderful thing to him about the Peerless was its street paving, never saw another town anywhere with so many and good surfaced thoroughfares. By another year he will see, if he comes back then, Portsmouth the only completely paved city on earth.

Nothing like being a real live town. Portsmouth bonds commanded the top of the market, this week.

CURING A HUSBAND

Holding that recourse to the domestic relations court and the divorce court is taken in too many cases an eastern woman relates in a letter to a newspaper just how she avoided appealing to the law when her marital arrangements went awry. Her husband, she says, happened to be of the "good fellow" type that looks so dashing before marriage but is less attractive after. His mother, being a sensible sort of woman, advised the wife to substitute discipline for tears and persuasion and furnished the wife with a paddle to use in the disciplining. Whereupon when the errant husband returned home at 2 a. m. with a strong breath and a muddled brain he was subjected to a sound spanking just as he attempted to crawl quietly into bed. After a few treatments of this kind, the wife says, her husband began to look upon life in a different light and today instead of debts and old clothes they are well dressed, have a good home and a bank account.

The remedy is perhaps a little original but why shouldn't it be as good for spoiled grownup persons as for spoiled children? There's not much difference between them. What appears most strange is that a wife who is capable of applying the flat side of a board to her husband should ever have been imposed upon at all by him.—Youngstown Telegram.

They are killing Villa some more down in Mexico. If they only keep it up they will have him real dead after awhile.

Judge John H. Clarke's nomination was unanimously reported favorably by the judiciary committee and likewise confirmed by the senate. Evidence of great minds running in the same and right channel.

As yet no opponent has dared deny that Woodrow Wilson is president in fact as well as in name. He isn't taking his orders from any interests, but he is trying to serve the most of the people.

Some people are just too kind in giving a thing away. For instance, that Chicago brokerage firm, which for almost a month now has been writing us every day that it wants to give us 35 shares of automobile stock at—30 cents a share. When we determine whether it takes us for pauper or millionaire, or something else, we'll accept, may be.

Yes, sir, a woman has got more sense than a man. The other day, one living up at Wheelersburg, met with a rather thrilling accident in her brand, splinter new automobile and she promptly sold it for $350, less than half of what she paid for it and vowed she would never get in one of the frightful things again.

Don't judge one altogether by past performances. Even the Russians have been showing they could tell some of the truth some of the time.

As a military strategist we should say it isn't so much a question can the Teutons hold out as it is can the Allies keep it up.

Say this much for the torrid weather, it keeps the pesky candidates, all except two senatorial aspirants, from moving around briskly.

WHISK BROOMS

Whisk brooms are gathered from the tails of whisk birds, which flock in great hordes off the coast of Western Mexico and are noted the world over for their abundant and lustrant broomage. The way in which these birds are persuaded by the wily Mexicans to sacrifice their broomage, makes a very interesting and untruthful story.

Whisk birds hate dust. From birth up they are possessed with a passionate loathing for it. It is constantly whisking their tails in an annoyed and nervous manner, as if to rid the world of dust. It is of this fundamental, inborn antipathy that men take advantage when they trick the whisk bird to give up its tail.

Along the shore of Western Mexico, the whisk bird sits in thousands out on the rocks, some distance from the edge of the water. He is fond of the dustless ocean. It seems to give him great peace. He seldom visits the mainland. It is clever the way the Mexicans lure him ashore, once every six months, when his broomage is thickest.

On an appointed day the whisk broom hunters gather at the ocean in their little automobiles, the name of which it is superfluous to mention, although we might as well mention it as to take all this space avoiding it. On this appointed day, at a given signal, they race up and down the bank of the ocean in their little cars and create cloud after cloud, cloud upon cloud of dust, and cloud after cloud of dust.

This maddens the whisk birds beyond measure and they come to the mainland in a great fury, in so great a fury, in fact, that they whisk their very tails off. They whisk as if they would brush these little cars from the face of the earth, an idle ambition that they but know it. And each tail is a perfect whisk broom, perfect even to the handle. After a couple of hours of this cleverness, the Mexicans gather up the whisk brooms and ship them to the Pullman Company and other markets.

Two Little Pigs Get Lost

Curly and Worly were two little pigs who lived on a farm near the ocean, not so many miles from the creek where old Mr. Galer made his home. They had all the good food they could eat, plenty of brothers and sisters and cousins to play with, and a nice, clean place to sleep, and you would have thought they should be perfectly happy. But they were not.

Can you guess why? They were miserable because they wanted to explore the world and they simply could not get outside of their own barn lot! Think of that!

But one day the farmer was sick and the man who came to feed the pigs in his place was careless and left the gate open. Now maybe you think that two such well-cared-for little pigs should have stayed where they knew they belonged, even if the gate was open. Well, maybe they should, but they didn't. They ran out the minute the man's back was turned and they started down the road in such a hurry that they were quite out of sight by the time the man discovered his mistake and came back to shut the gate.

Now not far from the farm was a small arm of the ocean that ran inland like a little river. The only difference was that this arm of the ocean was "tidal water," which means that when the tide in the ocean was "out" the water went away and left nothing but mud where there had been a narrow lake; and when the tide in the ocean was "in" the water all came back and covered up the mud and made the lake deep enough to canoe in.

When Curly and Worly found the water way, the tide was "out" and the bottom of the lake was nothing but mud, mud just as wet and swampy and sticky as the pigs loved. So they waded right in and had a beautiful time rooting for the roots of the plants that grew in the swampy soil.

So they waded right in and had a beautiful time rooting for the roots

And then the tide "turned"—which means that the water started coming back into the lake. And Curly and Worly were way, way out from where the shore would be. They didn't know what to make of the water that kept coming nearer and nearer. They hunted a higher place and a still higher place, but still the water rose, till there was no place for them to stand.

They grunted and squealed and splashed around in the rising water, till a neighbor farmer, who happened to be near, heard them and came out in a boat to rescue them.

I tell you they were glad to get on dry land again! And though they didn't in the least understand about tides, they knew that that lake was a dangerous place, and they never went there any more—never!

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, July 27.—Miss Alice Walsh, the news-stand girl in the Auditorium Hotel, Chicago, has paid her first visit to New York. She is the original of the news-stand girl in George Ade's comedy "Just Out of College," and is known to actors, managers and salesmen everywhere.

As a matter of fact many of them have stolen her sayings and claimed them as "their own stuff." Her newstand is one of the literary centers of the Bonito Mich. "Am I having a good time in New York? Wait, let me park my gum. My heavenly! I have not missed a single preparedness parade since I landed."

She thinks it depressing on the sleeping cars. "I had a lower on the limited because I don't believe in the high berth rate. The drummers snored all the way from South Bend to Buffalo, and they all took their key from a piano salesman."

"Yes, I know George Ade. He's the loveliest man in the world and a regular collar ad in looks. As George Ade once said to me, 'There are only four real metropolises in America. Brook, Ind. is one, and the other three are New York.'"

For the first time in its history New York is to have a cowboy convention, stampede and roundup at the Sheephead Bay Park. Among those who have arrived are Art Acord, of Nevada; Hoot Gibson, of Texas; Poison Bill, of Wyoming, and about twelve of the Montana celebrities. Some of them went up to Central Park to see the riders on the bridge.

The police are now trying to end the activities of the Tango Trimmers. They are the heel and toe hounds who flourish in the fertile cafe belt. The Tango Trimmer must be an expert in the modern ballroom dance and also be up in the social usages.

Their method is to annex some foolish woman whose brain has grown fevered on the subject of the dance. The first step is to assure her that it is only a question of a short time until she will make Irene Castle look like a clumsy yokel.

To guide a frivolous girl of fifty, built on the general lines of a Texas battleship, through the intricacies of the fox-trot or the Argentine tango is no sinecure. There comes a time when she becomes infatuated with the dancer. And then comes the Great Moment.

Mr. Trimmer painlessly extracts her purse and gets all of her diamonds. Then she goes back to husband, wiser for her fling and settles down and Mr. Trimmer hunts a new victim.

There is a cigar-maker on Fifth Avenue who has the most exclusive trade in town. He caters to the tastes of the big business men, and for each customer he makes a separate brand of cigars. Of course he sells them from 50 cents up to a dollar each and they are put up like a package from Tiffany's.

Among his clients are such prominent folk as Edward Henry Clift, the commission merchant; William Randolph Hearst; Oscar Strauss, George Boldt and George Gould.

Only his regular customers can secure his goods and he has no salesmen.

Arthur Hammerstein has offered a reward of $500 to any chorus girl who will catch a man-eating shark with her bare hands. A generous fellow, this Arthur. And the Winter Garden chorus girls are sending their pictures to soldiers in Texas. On each photograph is written: "To my hero." A hard, hard life these chorus girls lead.

BRITISH AND GERMANS IN HAND TO HAND CLASHES IN FRANCE

ALLIES CONTINUE TO PRESS TEUTONS

(BULLETIN)

London, July 27.—Throughout the night the British troops continued to press the Germans with hand to hand encounters at various points on the Somme front in France, says the official British statement issued today.

London, July 27.—With the village of Pozieres completely and apparently securely in their hands and having strengthened their position here by the capture of the village, the British troops seem to be resting before attempting to again throw their forces against the Germans who are blocking their advance toward Bapaume. Wednesday saw only the isolated artillery duels and here and there sharp local infantry attacks along the entire British front in France, where for several weeks sanguinary encounters had been engaged in almost continuously.

South of the Somme the French have recorded another success in the taking of a fortified house with some prisoners, southeast of the village of Estrees. Except in the Champagne, where the artillery of both sides was engaged in somewhat violent actions, little fighting took place on the remainder of the French front.

In the Volhynia sector the Russians are keeping up energetically the pressure on the teutonic allies in the Stenka river region and also are attacking the teutons in North Galicia near Brody. In the Stanvka district, Petrograd says the teutons are suffering heavy casualties, and that more than 4,000 men, five guns, six machine guns and quantities of munitions have been captured by the Russians.

The Petrograd and Berlin communications are at variance concerning the results of fighting that has taken place near Riga and in the vicinity of Baranovichi. Petrograd claims the repulse of an offensive by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's men near Riga, while Berlin asserts that the Germans penetrated Russian advanced positions there and destroyed them. Likewise Petrograd claims a slight gain for the Russians near Baranovichi while Berlin declares that strong Russian attacks in this vicinity were put down with heavy casualties by the Germans.

MANY AMERICAN SAILORS STRANDED

Washington, D. C., July 27.—Because of reports from consular officers all over the world that an increasing number of destitute American merchant sailors have applied to them for aid, the state department issued a suggestion today to all Americans signing on foreign vessels, that they ascertain whether the shipping article provide for their return to the United States. Though consuls sometimes can aid stranded sailors in obtaining passage home, usually they can be of no assistance, as no funds have been provided by congress.

London, July 27.—Justice Darling announced today that the five judges who heard the appeal of Roger Casement against the sentence of death on the charge of high treason in connection with the Dublin revolt, would sit tomorrow to "hear a possible application on behalf of the convict."

The nature of the application was not disclosed.

Seek a position through TIMES WANT ADS. Employers of labor read them carefully.

STRONG APPEAL ISSUED TO PREVENT GENERAL STRIKE THREATENED IN GERMANY

Berlin, July 26.—(Via London, July 27)—The Manifesto to the working class, issued by the Socialist Executive Committee and the general commission of labor unions, appealing against the general strike which the leaders of the Liebknecht branch of the Socialists are endeavoring to organize, reads as follows:

"The prolonged war weighs heavily on all nations and entails great sacrifices. It severely tests the endurance of those at home and at the front and it is natural that ill-feeling and discontent should develop. This situation is unfortunately being abused by irresponsible individuals who wish to mislead labor in resorting to measures which are not in the slightest adapted to relieve the burden, but rather to increase it. An attempt is being made, through anonymous leaflets, which have been circulating for several months among members of the party and of unions, to sow hatred and distrust against the deputies chosen by the workmen themselves. The charge launched against these men, who for years have stood at the head of the organization of German labor classes, is that they are sacrificing Socialist principles, have disregarded decisions of German Socialist party convention, have perpetrated party treason.

"Such insinuations and abuse could be disregarded if labor were not urged by unworthy propagandists for whose actions Socialist labor must disclaim all responsibility. The consequences must be borne by the individual participants, and neither party nor unions can grant strike relief. "We therefore consider it our duty to warn labor against the machinations of apostles of protest and general strike working in darkness and anonymity. The organization of wage movements and strikes rests with the competent union committees, and they are doing everything to emphasize the justifiable demands of members of their organizations. Extraordinary difficulties are present in the distribution of the food supply. We have not failed to combat abuses in this field with every means at our disposal. "We have struggled unceasingly to improve the efficiency of measures for the relief of the unemployed and for the aid of the wives and widows of soldiers and the wounded. We must, however, refuse to resort to measures which are sure to fail. "Immediately after the declaration of a state of war, we issued a warning against reckless action, re-fering to the penalties of martial law, and we renew that warning today. Just now, when our brothers in uniform on all fronts must withstand a mighty onslaught by the armies of our enemies, and must make indescribable sacrifices, and when, just before the harvest, the supply presents the greatest difficulties, each thoughtless action may be fatal, and above all, strike labor itself the severest blow.

and shot and instantly killed him. Five shots were fired, three taking effect. William Snyder, a young newspaperman, rushed to the murderer, disarmed her, arrested her and escorted her to jail. Jealousy is given as the cause.

FOUR WARSHIPS ON NEUTRALITY DUTY OFF THE VIRGINIA CAPES

Washington, D. C., July 27.—The armored cruiser North Carolina, and three United States destroyers were on neutrality duty today outside the Virginia Capes, where allied warships are hovering, in wait for the German submarine, Deutschland, about to leave Baltimore for Germany and the submarine, Bremen, expected hourly from across the seas.

The American war vessels went to sea yesterday on orders from the navy department after a vessel purporting to be a British warship had passed into Chesapeake Bay and out again in the early morning hours.

Officials were silent as to just what instructions went to the North Carolina. It was assumed,

Monster Gas Well Believed Struck In The Fatal Tunnel

Cleveland, July 27.—The possibility that the city may be compelled to abandon not only the search for the bodies of the workmen still entombed in the waterworks tunnel here as a result of Monday night's explosion, but all further work on the tunnel itself, loomed here today as the result of further investigations by L. M. Jones, of Pittsburgh, government mining expert. This possibility was seen in Jones' expressed belief that a gas well of uncontrollable proportions had been uncovered in the bed of the lake as the result of the tunnel explosion. Tests made today showed gas in the tunnel exceeded five percent, a highly explosive ratio despite the installation of a giant fan, which has been whipping the gas-laden air from the tunnel since yesterday.

Expert Jones said today the sand and gravel taken from the tunnel is of a mixture similar to that in the gas fields in Lakewood, a suburb nearly opposite the point in the lake where the tunnel is being constructed and indicates the presence of a natural gas well of monster size.

If it possible rescue parties will enter the tunnel today, but the entombed bodies are behind a cave-in nearly three hundred feet long and it is feared the gas is so dense in the tube that men will be unable to stay in the tunnel long enough to dig through this distance.

Water works officials said today they believe there are only nine bodies in the tunnel instead of eleven, as previously estimated.

Patrick Kerans, supposed to be among the entombed, turned up alive today. He had overstayed shore leave Monday and missed death by a close margin. Justice Aro, another thought to be with the ill-fated force, has also been reported as alive. This reduces the total loss of life in the disaster to nineteen.

ALL NEW YORK MAY BE TIED UP BY THE STREET CAR STRIKE

New York, N. Y., July 27.—five big cities in which the street railway men are not organized. It looks now, in view of the success we have had, that we will not stop until we reach the Battery." All the trolley cars on 150 miles of track in the Bronx stopped running at 6 o'clock last night. Edward A. Maher, general manager of the Union Railroad Company, asserted that the trouble might extend to all surface lines in Manhattan if the police did not give the employees better protection.

The employees demand the right to join the new organization and seek an increase in pay of five cents an hour and better working conditions.

Deutschland May Await Bremen's Arrival Before Leaving For Home Port

Baltimore, Md., July 27.—If Captain Paul Koenig, of the merchant submarine, Deutschland, plans to start today on the return voyage to Germany, there was nothing going on this morning at the pier, where the submarine is berthed, that was any more indicative of departure than has been the case for the last few days.

Overnight developments, in fact, tended to increase the probability of a report late last night that it had been decided to hold the Deutschland here until some word has been received concerning her sister ship, the Bremen.

When Carl A. Luederitz, German consul here, announced that the reception to Ambassador Von Bernstorff, which he planned at his home for last evening, had been indefinitely postponed, he was asked when the Deutschland would leave.

"She will not leave for a week," answered Mr. Luederitz. He would not add to this statement, however, when he was asked the cause of further delay in the vessel's departure, although clearance papers have been taken out. The postponement of the reception to the Ambassador was owing to his inability to come here last night, Mr. Luederitz said.

The Deutschland crew slept aboard the interned North German Lloyd steamer, Neckar, last night.

The Inside of The White Slave Traffic

It has been the talk of the entire world for two years. Today it is the talk of Portsmouth. Hundreds of Portsmouth's best critics pronounced it the most wonderful film they ever saw. ## IF WILLARD QUIT

The rumor is still abroad around the sun-baked landscape that Jess Willard will retire.

If this should happen there is one logical procedure in sight—this will be for Frank Moran to face Fred Fulton and for the winner of this bout to take on Jack Dillon.

Reds Defeat Giants; Matty Is Cheered

With Christy Mathewson in full charge of the Redlegs they pounced on the ferocious Giants yesterday, and before 16,000 bugs, who stood on their heels and shouted when Matty appeared upon the field, they beat the McGraw clan, 4 to 2. Pete Schneider, an outpitched Sallee, who made his debut in a Giant kit.

Kilbane Vs. Chaney

Cleveland, July 27.—Johnny Kilbane, feather-weight champion, may defend his title in a 15-round decision bout at Cedar Point Labor Day against George Chaney, Baltimore challenger.

Matt Hinkel, who offered $15,000 for the bout, said today Manager Jimmy Dunn, for Kilbane had agreed to accept $10,000 as his share of the purse.

Dunn agreed to have a decision, thereby putting the title at stake, and said Hinkel could name the referee. Chaney will receive $5,000 if he accepts Hinkel's offer.

A few days after the season opened we were talking with Chief Meyers, the Brooklyn catcher.

"There is one man in this league," remarked the Chief, "who is about ready to prove that he is one of the greatest ballplayers the game has ever known. I mean Dave Robertson. I have made quite a study of him, and this fellow is the greatest of them all that I have seen. He is not only a fine outfielder, fast as a streak, with a wonderful arm, but if he doesn't bat over .350 this year I am a bad guesser."

So far the Chief has made good with a rush in the Prophet League. Robertson has been the star of his circuit and, at the present rate of speed, it is no certainty that Cobb, Speaker or Jackson will beat him.

Robertson Has Delivered

A large crowd is on hand every Saturday and Sunday afternoon at the McClinton and Marshall ball grounds at the C. and O. Northern bridge site above Solotville.

The men working on the bridge job have staked off a splendid diamond just east of the small bridge piers and they spend every Saturday afternoon and Sunday on the grounds hammering up their muscles. It is a treat to see the four Canadian Indians on the job whip the sphere across the diamond and about the "pill" over the heads of the out-felders. The Indians are "quick as lightning" on the field and in base running. Several college lads who are also working on the bridge are making the games interesting by fast work. The games are played with Solotville, Watts Station, Wheelersburg and other small town teams and when no town team can be hooked the men play just the same, two teams being selected from the 100 to 150 men at work.

Fine Card At Detroit

Detroit, Mich., July 27.—With the free-for-all pace, purse $1,000 as the headline, today's grand circuit program was regarded as one of the best of the week's racing. The Potomac Stake for 2-year-olds, with a purse of $1,000 and the triennial $2,000 stake for 2-year-olds were the other events on the card.

A great fight was looked for between Single G and Russell Boy race at North Randall last week.

Howdy Made Only Bingle

Atlanta in the Southern league recently beat Birmingham 1 to 0 and the only hit Birmingham scored was a double by our former fellow townsman, Bingley, who sent a line smash over third which melted him a pair of socks. This game was witnessed by Lloyd J. Moschese, who is presently located in that city. He was formerly employed here by the Solly Shoe company.

Is He Back? We'll Say

They were first wondering whether old John Peter Wagner could stand up this season and last out a week or two. Then they began to wonder whether he could bat as high as .250.

By June they were debating as to whether or not he could bat .300 for one more year.

And now they are wondering whether or not the grand Old Fossil is going to lead the league.

For Wagner now is attached to a mark of .325. He is 25 points back of Dave Robertson and Dave is a woolly wolf, but any man who at 42 can climb to .325 can do about anything he cares to do.

Johnston Leads American League In Effective Pitching

Walter Johnston, of the Senators, is the hardest worked and most effective twirler in the American Circuit. He has labored in more than 300 innings to date with an earned run average against him of but 2.05 per game. Close upon his heels, however, are Harry Coveleski, of Detroit, and Stanley Coveleski, of Cleveland.

OUCH!

The Boston players were telling the White Sox about how President Lannin threatened the arrest of George McBridge for his attempt to assault Carl Mays with a bat. "They couldn't prosecute McBridge," said Joe Jackson, "he was never dangerous with a bat."

WANT MATTY TO PITCH

New York, July 27.—It seems as if everybody in New York wants Matty to pitch the last game of the present series. There is a tremendous demand for Big Six to go into the final struggle, and the jam which would pack the Polo grounds would be a real record-breaker. And maybe the crowd wouldn't be pulling for Matty, either!

League Is On Rocks

Greensboro, N. C., July 27.—The Greensboro Club of the North Carolina League has surrendered its franchise to the league and a meeting called for today an effort will be made to re-organize. If that is not successful the league, probably will disband. Storms that interrupted games and other mishaps have made the season a disastrous one for all clubs.

Albany Quits

August, Ga., July 27.—The Albany team of the South Atlantic League, which was thrown upon the league a week ago, has been disbanded, the league officials failing to place it as they had hoped to do. It was offered both Savannah and Montgomery, but neither city seemed interested. The plan now is to drop another team, probably Columbus, and finish the season with six clubs.

Poor Old Leidy

When the history of the Texas league is written, George Leidy will be put down as one of its most remarkable characters and not least of the incidents in his career was his voluntary resignation of his job as an umpire, with the candid statement that he had neither the qualifications of temperament or eyesight to handle the incident. Would that a score of other umpires, in big leagues and little, could be so honest with themselves and the baseball public. The game would be better off.

SCANDAL

Do too broad minded to encourage the sin of scandal. When a gossip begins to relate some scandal in your presence say to him, "Come; let us go to that person and see if the story is true!" Hannah More, the English author, always followed that course, and it never failed to work.

THAT MUCH DUE THEM

Except for four candidates for county commissioners, there are no contests on the Democratic nominations for Scioto county. Ordinarily this would mean a very light vote. But conditions can not be stated as ordinary, this year. They are unusual in that Woodrow Wilson is a candidate for re-nomination. He is an extraordinary man and this career as president attains an equal altitude. No executive has ever had so many, so important and so perplexing problems to meet. In patience that was sublime, in calmness that was inspiring, he has met them and in wisdom that was wonderful he has solved them to the honor, peace and prosperity of the people. The people owe him something, they owe him much. It will be gracious, it will be only right if they assure him of their appreciation. The only distinct way they can do that in the immediate present is by giving him, through his party voters, a big and rousing endorsement by votes. Let therefore the Democrats of Scioto county turn out to a man at the primaries on August 8 and show Woodrow Wilson they are with him and they believe in the things he believes in.

By the same token should they turn out for their own personal representative in the administration, Senator Allee Pomerene. He as has no other senator has enjoyed the confidence of President Wilson, who has often constituted him his personal representative on the floor of the senate. Pomerene has stood staunch and true, he is recognized as one of the big men at Washington. His enemies, the enemies of the honest and loyal Democracy, are fighting him, not because they have any possible chance of defeating him in the primary, but because they wish to discredit him against reelection in November. They would bargain and betray him as they have other good Democrats, who dared to be Democrats responsive to manhood and public duty. The Democrats of Scioto county, who for so many years gallantly and steadfastly kept the faith, when everywhere else there was doubt and desertion, should and will be the last to countenance such foul tactics, even by indifference.

Remember the primaries and vote on August 8.

TRANQUIL TAZEWELL

The World-News of Roanoke paints Tazewell county, Virginia, as the one place where all is serene and no storm, all sunshine and no clouds. It declares the county has immense crops, fine horses, unsurpassed roads, the people vote for the best man for office and everybody is prosperous and happy, so content that they can't stir up even a wet and dry discussion. Joyous, tranquil Tazewell, if such be the case. But we don't believe it is, we don't even believe such a paradise can be possible on this mundane sphere or so much of it as is embraced in America. We'll admit, the crops, the horses, the roads, everybody frolicking, aye we'll even concede the seemingly impossible, that no riot can be started over the liquor question, but when it comes to all the voters voting for the best man there we halt and our credulity ends. We know a thing or two about running for office and we know several thousand voters. On top of that we know how they vote. The best man is the last, not the first, consideration with the voter everywhere, and exceptional as she seems to be, tranquil Tazewell is still a part of the everywhere. We heard a man say just the other day, Woodrow Wilson was the best, the greatest president the country ever had, but he rejected with indignation the suggestion that he concede his high opinion with his lovely vote—Woodrow wasn't on his ticket. We heard another man say he wouldn't vote for that candidate because he wore clothes that were clean and fit; we heard another say he wouldn't vote for another because he wore a celluloid collar. Why an intelligent elector swore he would never vote for that fellow because his wife put on too many airs. A dozen avow they won't support him because he is from town and equal number reject him because he is a Rube from the country. Nary a word about giving the good man a boost because he is good.

So Abe Lilly concedes his defeat in West Virginia and says it is all right and henceforth and forever he is going to be a good Indian. Did anyone actually suppose he would say anything else?

Of course, the Maine Republicans are actually burning up with hot enthusiasm and prove it beyond doubt when they cast 17,000 votes in the senatorial primary.

Anyway, it can be said that the men who run the street cars ought to know about as much as anybody else on which side of the street they ought to stop. But it isn't so much concern of the public whether the cars stop hither or yon, as it is the statement that Portsmouth has fifty per cent less accidents than any other street car town of like size. We know we have got the best service and the most accommodating car men and it is pleasant to learn their efficiency is on a par with their courtesy.

Visitor told us the most wonderful thing to him about the Peetless was its street paving, never saw another town anywhere with so many and good surfaced thoroughfares. By another year he will see, if he comes back then, Portsmouth the only completely paved city on earth.

Nothing like being a real live town. Portsmouth bonds commanded the top of the market, this week.

CURING A HUSBAND

Holding that recourse to the domestic relations court and the divorce court is taken in too many cases an eastern woman relates in a letter to a newspaper just how she avoided appealing to the law when her marital arrangements went awry. Her husband, she says, happened to be of the "good fellow" type that looks so dashing before marriage but is less attractive after. His mother, being a sensible sort of woman, advised the wife to substitute discipline for tears and persuasion and furnished the wife with a paddle to use in the disciplining. Whereupon when the errant husband returned home at 2 a. m. with a strong breath and a muddled brain he was subjected to a sound spanking just as he attempted to crawl quietly into bed. After a few treatments of this kind, the wife says, her husband began to look upon life in a different light and today instead of debts and old clothes they are well dressed, have a good home and a bank account.

The remedy is perhaps a little original but why shouldn't it be as good for spoiled grownup persons as for spoiled children? There's not much difference between them. What appears most strange is that a wife who is capable of applying the flat side of a board to her husband should ever have been imposed upon at all by him.—Youngstown Telegram.

They are killing Villa some more down in Mexico. If they only keep it up they will have him real dead after awhile.

Judge John H. Clarke's nomination was unanimously reported favorably by the judiciary committee and likewise confirmed by the senate. Evidence of great minds running in the same and right channel.

As yet no opponent has dared deny that Woodrow Wilson is president in fact as well as in name. He isn't taking his orders from any interests, but he is trying to serve the most of the people.

Some people are just too kind in giving a thing away. For instance, that Chicago brokerage firm, which for almost a month now has been writing us every day that it wants to give us 35 shares of automobile stock at—30 cents a share. When we determine whether it takes us for pauper or millionaire, or something else, we'll accept, may be.

Yes, sir, a woman has got more sense than a man. The other day, one living up at Wheelersburg, met with a rather thrilling accident in her brand, splinter new automobile and she promptly sold it for $350, less than half of what she paid for it and vowed she would never get in one of the frightful things again.

Don't judge one altogether by past performances. Even the Russians have been showing they could tell some of the truth some of the time.

As a military strategist we should say it isn't so much a question can the Teutons hold out as it is can the Allies keep it up.

Say this much for the torrid weather, it keeps the pesky candidates, all except two senatorial aspirants, from moving around briskly.

WHISK BROOMS

Whisk brooms are gathered from the tails of whisk birds, which flourish in great herds off the coast of Western Mexico and are noted the world over for their abundant and luxurious broomage. The way in which these birds are persecuted by the wily Mexicans to sacrifice their broomage, makes a very interesting and untruthful story.

Whisk birds hate dust. From birth up they are possessed with a passionate loathing for it. It is queer. Wherever they go, they are constantly whisking their tails in an annoyed and nervous manner, as if to rid the world of dust. It is of this fundamental inborn antipathy that man takes advantage when he tricks the whisk bird to give up its tail.

Along the shore of Western Mexico, the whisk bird sits in thousands—out on the rocks, some distance from the edge of the water. He is fond of the dustless ocean. He seems to give him great peace. He seldom visits the mainland. It is clever the way the Mexicans lure him ashore, once every six months, when his broomage is thickest.

On an appointed day the whisk broom hunters gather at the ocean in their little automobiles, the name of which it is superfluous to mention, although we might as well mention it as to take all this space avoiding it. On this appointed day, at a given signal, they race up and down the bank of the ocean in their little cars, and create cloud after cloud, cloud upon cloud of dust, and cloud after cloud of dust.

This madness the whisk birds beyond measure and they come to the mainland in a great fury, in so great a fury, in fact, that they whisk their very tails off. They whisk as if they would brush these little cars from the face of the earth—an idle ambition if they but knew it. And each tail is a perfect whisk broom, perfect even to the handle. After a couple of hours of this cleverness, the Mexicans gather up the whisk brooms and ship them to the Pullman Company and other markets.

Two Little Pigs Get Lost

CURRY AND WORRY were two little pigs who lived on a farm near the ocean, not so many miles from the creek where old Mr. Gater made his home. They had all the good food they could eat, plenty of brothers and sisters and cousins to play with, and a nice, clean place to sleep, and you would have thought they should be perfectly happy. But they were not.

Can you guess why? They were miserable because they wanted to explore the world and they simply could not get outside of their own barn lot!

But one day the farmer was sick and the man who came to feed the pigs in his place was careless and left the gate open. Now maybe you think that two such well-cared-for little pigs should have stayed where they knew they belonged, even if the gate was open. Well, maybe they should, but they didn't. They ran out the minute the man's back was turned and they started down the road in such a hurry that they were quite out of sight by the time the man discovered his mistake and came back to shut the gate.

Now not far from the farm was a small arm of the ocean that ran inland like a little river. The only difference was that this arm of the ocean was "tidal water," which means that when the tide in the ocean was "out" the water went away and left nothing but mud where there had been a narrow lake; and when the tide in the ocean was "in" the water all came back and covered up the mud and made the lake deep enough to canoe in.

When Curry and Worry found the water way, the tide was "out" and the bottom of the lake was nothing but mud, mud just as wet and swampy and sticky as the pigs loved. So they waded right in and had a beautiful time rooting for the roots of the plants that grew in the swampy soil.

As the hours went by, Curry and Worry wandered further and further out into the water-way. They never thought of their home, because they were getting plenty to eat and were having such a good time.

So they waded right in and had a beautiful time rooting for the roots

And then the tide "turned"—which means that the water started coming back into the lake. And Curry and Worry were way, way out from where the shore would be. They didn't know what to make of the water that kept coming nearer and nearer. They hunted a higher place and a still higher place, but still the water rose, till there was no place for them to stand.

They grunted and squealed and splashed around in the rising water, till a neighbor farmer, who happened to be near, heard them and came out in a boat to rescue them.

I tell you they were glad to get on dry land again! And though they didn't in the least understand about tides, they knew that that lake was a dangerous place, and they never went there any more—never!

New York, July 27—Miss Alice Walsh, the news-stand girl in the Auditorium Hotel, Chicago, has paid her first visit to New York. She is the original of the news-stand girl in George Ade's comedy "Just Out of College," and is known to actors, managers and salesmen everywhere.

As a matter of fact many of them have stolen her sayings and claimed them as "their own stuff." Her newstand is one of the literary centers of the Boule Mich. "Am I having a good time in New York. Wait, let me park my gam. My heavens! I have not missed a single preparedness parade since I landed."

For the first time in its history New York is to have a cowboy convention, stampede and roundup at the Sheephead Bay Park. Among those who have arrived are Art Acord, of Nevada; Hoot Gibson, of Texas; Poison Bill, of Wyoming, and about twelve of the Montan celebrities. Some of them went to Central Park to see the riders on the bridgepath. They suggested that the riders put glue on their saddles.

Two Others Hurt; One Man Hurl'd Fifty Feet

Two men were badly hurt and a hand car riding to their work east of Mineral Springs, were tossed from the car. Robinson, who resides at Jaybird, had his nose mashed and was injured about the back. Dameron escaped with bruises.

The collision, it is claimed, resulted when a workman failed to flag the westbound gravel train. The section boss sent a man to Mineral Springs to flag the train, but it is claimed that he listened to another employee not to use the flag and the collision resulted.

The man whistled to the engineer when he realized that the wreck was inevitable, but the sound of his whistle was drowned out by the rumble of the engine and a few seconds later the engine and hand car collided on a sharp curve near the spot where an even-

All the men on the hand car are well known in vicinity of Mineral Springs. Fred and Clifford Barney reside at Beaver Pond, two miles west of Mineral Springs.

According to information secured from the scene of the wreck, it resulted from a collision of orders among the section men and N. & W. officials will no doubt fully investigate the affair.

At the Hempstead hospital this morning it was stated that Fred and Clifford Barney were resting easily.

Mrs. Dameron says that the man came to her house about five days ago, representing to her that he was employed at The Times office. He left Wednesday afternoon without paying his bill, and shortly after he left several articles were found missing.

No such man has ever been employed at The Times.

At The Exhibit Today and Tomorrow

"The Inside of the White Slave Traffic" in five reels, is scheduled for two days at the Exhibit theatre, today and tomorrow. There is not an immodest picture in the whole five acts. There is not the remotest suggestion of indecency. There are pictures which show the brutality of a young man who lives by procuring girls for the traffic. The play offers a tremendous warning to young girls. One cannot put this too strongly. It offers a warning of overwhelming force and power. It is with this idea in view that the Medical Review of Reviews made arrangements with Samuel H. London to give to the world at large the benefit of his investigations. Every man, woman and child should witness a performance of this wonderful picture when presented at the Exhibit theatre, where it is shown for the first time in this city.

INCREASED PAY FOR OFFICERS IS PROPOSED

Washington, July 27.—Increased pay for officers and men of the Regular Army and National Guard in active service for the Mexican emergency, improved conditions to safeguard their health, and authorization for them to vote in the field at the coming Presidential election were provided in amendments to the army appropriation bill agreed late yesterday by the Senate.

By a vote of 41 to 13, the Senate

also suspended the rules to adopt an amendment changing the age minimum for enlistment in the regular army from 18 to 21 years without the consent of parent or guardian. Under the provisions boys under 21 now serving in the army, would not be retained in the service unless they filed within 30 days the written consent of their parents or guardians. The amendment was adopted without a roll-call.

Council Takes No Action On Street Fair Ordinance, Hilltop Sewer Is Certainty

A busy session of city council was held Wednesday night, as twenty-seven ordinances and resolutions were passed under suspended rules. And the famous Street Fair licensing ordinance nor the "near side" street car ordinance were not mentioned, except when a "pussy foot" vote was taken to determine the status of opinion.

The ordinance which would license all street fairs and carnivals, charging them $100 per diem will pass at the next meeting of city council, which will be held Wednesday evening, August 2, unless the sentiment among the councilmen changes radically.

The measure has been up for its second reading and will be finally decided August 2. There is opposition to the bill but the majority, according to a canvass, is in favor of the ordinance.

To Award Hilltop Sewer Contract

One of the most important measures passed last evening by council was the resolution authorizing the awarding of the contract for the construction of the Hilltop sewer system. This is the foundation of the city's future sanitary sewer system.

The first unit is to cost about $42,000. This is computed to care for all sanitary requirements of the territory east of Chillicothe street and north of Robinson avenue.

The engineer's estimate for excavating the Damarin hill landslide was received and referred to the service department. The legislation is ordered. The estimate is $5,000.

Complaints of a man-hole at Chillicothe and Third streets and some lumber piled on a sidewalk, Sixth street, near the Donaldson Lumber Company were referred to the service department.

To Present Views At Next Meeting

Service Director Ralph Calvert reported that a representative of the Portsmouth Street Railway and Light Company had assured him that they would present their views of adding extra car service at the next regular meeting.

A damage claim for $600 alleged due from the construction of the flood wall addition was filed by Holcomb and Holcomb, attorneys, representing the Treat estate. The lot is located on Mill street, outside the wall.

Were Passed Under Suspended Rules

The following ordinances and resolutions were passed under suspended rules:

The ordinances are: Approving plans and specifications of sanitary sewers in the following places: Alley between Seventh and Eighth streets from Broadway to second alley east, $499.25; first alley east of Broadway to a sewer in Sixth street, $404.50; first alley north of B. & O. rail tracks, east to Norfolk street and thence west to Beech street and lateral to alley west of Norfolk street, known as Heinisch sewer, $263.85; on Seventeenth street between Kinney and Waller streets, $35.90; alley west of Campbell avenue from Dexter avenue to first alley south, known as Le Baron alley, $309.45; alley between Sixth and Seventh street from Broadway street to second alley east of Broadway, $476.45 and approving plans for relaying twenty-four inch sewer in alley south of Walnut street from Norfolk east 402 feet, known as B. & O. sewer, $321.60 and for the installation of water mains in the Beechwood addition, $201.00.

Resolutions declaring the intention of the city to improve streets and alleys are: Paving alley between Hutchins avenue and Lincoln street from south property line of Robinson avenue to north property line of Eleventh street, city's share $57.50 and property owners' share, $935.00; paving Madison street, from north line Third street to north line of Fourth street, city's share, $439.35 and property owners' share, $462.50; Kinney street from Thirteenth street to Sixteenth street, city's share, $1,321.15; property owners' share, $4,861.35; Deyev avenue from Seventeenth to Bannock Place, city's share, $265.95, and property owners' share, $2,462.50; Kinney street from Thirteenth to Offshore street, city's share, $198.40 and property owners' share, $1,971.60; Grant street, from first alley east of Center street to Spring street, city's share, $214.82 and property owners' share, $576.13; Tenth street from Court street to Findlay street, city's share, $2,773 and property owners' share, $12,027; Vinton avenue, from Center to Spring avenue, city's share, $242.80 and property owners' share, $1,339.36; Fourth street, first alley west of Market to Madison street, city's share, $3,767.28, and property owners' share, $6,627.72; Dexter avenue from Campbell avenue west 386 feet, city's share, $210.85 and property owners' share, $2,456.65; Jackson avenue, from Offshore street to Campbell avenue, city's share, $1,987.84 and property owners' share, $13,454.16; Poplar street from Gallia avenue north 475 feet, city's share, $956.81 and property owners' share, $3,163.83; Court street from Ninth to Tenth street, city's share $94.02 and property owners' share $2,106.98; Spring avenue from Vinton avenue to Grant street, city's share, $443.10, and property owners' share, $2,461.90; Kendall avenue from Gallia street to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks, city's share, $1,945.43 and property owners' share, $2,371.04; and Jefferson street, between Third and Fifth streets, city's share, $2,057.09 and property owners' share, $3,122.41.

The sale of $104,500 street bonds and $42,000 sewer bonds to the Provident Savings Bank and Trust Company, Cincinnati, were approved.

BRINGING IN HAY FOR THE MOUNTS AT THE BORDER.

Accounts Of City Treasurer Are Found Correct, Report Submitted

Pursuant to the request of Mayor H. H. Kaps and the subsequent examination of the office city treasurer and water works collector, made by E. F. McGuire, state examiner, shortly after the death of the late D. E. Edwards, city treasurer, finds the records of the office in excellent condition, according to a report submitted to Treasurer John F. Eckhart and Auditor L. A. Zuecker, Wednesday.

Commenting, the report says: "The accounts of the city treasurer and water works collector as shown by the records of these departments, and the records of the city auditor and the statements of the banks in which the city funds are deposited, were found correct."

"Owing to the method of book-keeping in use in both the treasurer's and auditor's departments, it is difficult to determine from these reports jointly, the cash balance that should be in the city depositories to the credit of the city treasurer on any date."

"These conditions are due to the following customs: Collections are deposited in the city treasury without notifying the city auditor at the time, and very often three or four weeks with elapse before the auditor has any knowledge of these transactions, and as a result the books of the auditor during these intervals, will not agree with the books of the treasurer nor with the depositories, as to the receipts.

"These methods should be abandoned as they serve only to complicate the accounts. When money is paid into the city treasury it should be done on pay-in orders of the city auditor, and the actual date of the transaction should appear on the books of these officials.

"The manner in which the water consumers' ledger and cash book are kept deserve special mention. These records are kept by a clerk employed by the water works collector, and paid by him personally. The water rent accounts are all that pertain to good bookkeeping, accuracy and neatness of the records, were found in first class condition.

"The records of receipts and disbursements as kept in the office of the city treasurer and in the office of the city auditor are accurate and exceedingly neat in appearance, and except as to the discrepancies in dates previously referred to no criticism can be offered."

Refused To Pay For Pool Game; Arrested

Refusal to pay for a game of pool, which they played at the Marshall saloon Wednesday evening, brought two men giving the names of Mathew Moss and T. C. Brandy into police court Thursday morning on charges of disorderly conduct. The pair admitted that they had refused to pay for the game.

The proprietor of the saloon testified that the men refused to pay, and when he demanded security while they raised the money, one put up his watch and left. Later he said the police came back and said that the men told them that he had taken the watch away by flashing a gun.

A fine of $10 and costs was leveled out to each.

Carl Dorcy and Harry Beasler pleaded guilty to charges of drunkenness and were fined $5 each.

William Collins, a strange negro, pleaded not guilty to a charge of stealing two dollars from Jess Petyford, North End. He is being held pending investigation. Collins broke and ran when the police approached the Petyford restaurant.

Horse Runs Away; Is Caught At New Boston

Wheeler Bussa, who lives just above Sciotoville, came near losing his fine year old horse several nights ago, when the animal ran from Sciotoville to New Boston.

Mr. Bussa and family went to a tent meeting just above Sciotoville in their horse and buggy. He unhitched the horse from the buggy and tied it to a tree. Some unknown party unfastened the hitching strap and started the horse down the pike toward home. Several dogs on the way ran after the horse and scared him and the horse continued on past Mr. Bussa's home toward New Boston.

Mr. Bussa and his twelve-year-old son, Chester, started on a hunt for the horse as soon as it was discovered he was missing. They walked to New Boston inquiring along the way about the horse and were told it was last seen going toward New Boston. Pete Backes, a New Boston baker, caught the horse and put him in the Brown livery barn, on Park avenue, where Mr. Bussa found him.

The horse lost nearly all his hair and in running lost two shoes. The animal was also badly cut and must have run into a fence somewhere along the pike. Mr. Bussa wishes to thank the baker and liveryman for taking care of his horse.
